Hunt Is On for Brutal Slayers

Bodies of 3 Boys Found In Ditch

Madman or Gang Blamed for Crime

Chicago, Oct. 19 (AP)—State, county and city police today pressed their widest investigation of its kind in a quarter century as they sought to solve the ghastly slaying of three young boys whose naked, mutilated bodies were found piled in a forest ditch.

Authorities called the crime one of the Chicago area's most brutal in history and blamed it on either a madman or a gang of older youths.

THE BOYS—Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton Jr., 11—were strangled and beaten, apparently Sunday night, a few hours after they set out from their homes for a downtown movie.

Their bodies, with legs intermingled, were discovered yesterday in Robinson woods, just outside Chicago's northwest limits.

A hundred law officers scoured the woods today for clues which might point to the murderer or murderers.

OTHER POLICE were tracing movements of the youngsters from the time they left their middle-class neighborhood on the northwest side to see the Walt Disney movie, "The African Lion," in the Loop Sunday afternoon.

An autopsy last night indicated the boys had been dead 36 to 40 hours when their bodies were discovered but that they had not been molested sexually as first believed.

However, Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, an associate of the Cook County Behavior Clinic, said: "The person who could commit such an act as this one is one to whom the act itself is a gratification of the sex urge."

Coroner Walter E. McCarron called it "the work of a madman" or a gang of older boys. He theorized from marks and dirt on the bodies that the boys were held captive in "some filthy place," bound, and gagged with strips of adhesive tape and then dumped in the forest preserve.

Victor Livingston, a liquor salesman, saw the bodies of the three boys when he pulled his car into a parking area in the forest preserve to eat his lunch.

THE BODIES were on their backs in a two-foot deep ditch. They were smudged with blood. (Continued on Page 21, Col. 2)

THREE BOYS FOUND BRUTALLY SLAIN

The bodies of these three youngsters, their skulls split open, were found nude and dumped in a ditch in forest area just west of Chicago, Ill., Oct. 18. They are, left to right: Robert Peterson, 14, John Schuessler, 13, and his brother, Anton Jr., 11.

The youngsters had been missing since they left home to attend a movie on Oct. 16. The coroner termed it definitely a sex crime and the work of a "madman."

Sees AFL-CIO Merger As Union Boom Market

San Francisco, Oct. 19 (AP)—The acting chairman of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) said today that labor unions face a "boom market" in union membership as a result of the prospective AFL-CIO merger.

Police Speaker Asks Children to Avoid Mischief

Policemen and other law enforcement officers are friends of the people and in particular the children as long as they obey the laws, Sergeant Thomas W. Tomshaw of the Kingston police department told the children of the Immaculate Conception Parochial School on Delaware avenue and Public School No. 4, yesterday.

SPEAKING UNDER the auspices of the Ulster County Grand Jurors Association and with the sanction of the board of education, Sergeant Tomshaw, told the students of the schools at an assembly, that the policemen were primarily interested in protection of people and property.

He was accompanied by the schools by Mrs. Helen Mann, chairman of the (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Philip Ray Rodgers, in a speech prepared for the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, predicted also that the merger will endure.

RODGERS ASKED and answered affirmatively the question about endurance of the amalgamation of the AFL and CIO into a 15 million member labor organization, due next December.

He said the merger will be "a notable success" and "one of the most significant developments which has ever taken place in the field of labor-management relations."

Rodgers, an aide of the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) in drafting the Taft-Hartley Labor Law, said he could not understand how "this prospect of increased unionization of American workers seems to evoke the great apprehension if not alarm in certain quarters."

"CERTAINLY," he said, "no one can claim that unionization has had an adverse effect upon either the standard of living or upon the soundness of the general economy. Indeed, the contrary seems to have been established beyond dispute."

"It is an almost certain event," Rodgers forecast, "that this new (AFL and CIO) organization will find millions of ready buyers for its product and services, with the result that both unionization and collective bargaining will come to encompass an ever-broadening part of our economy."

"The results of such a development, measured against experience, would seem to promise both general and specific economic advantages."

Rodgers said that critics of the AFL-CIO merger "have for the most part come to accept mergers in business as an almost routine device in the achievement of efficiency and the overcoming of handicaps."

Faure Wins Confidence Vote On North African Policies

Paris, Oct. 19 (AP)—Twice victor in national assembly votes on his North African policies, Premier Edgar Faure appeared today to look forward to a month's respite from parliamentary attack.

The Premier won his latest victory last night with a 308-254 vote of confidence from the Assembly on his plans for restoring order and promoting political reforms in Algeria.

The 34-vote margin surprised even his most optimistic supporters.

Each time the Premier came back from what looked like certain defeat. Each time he benefited from special circumstances, but his own nimble parliamentary footwork also contributed to his successes.

With the two voting hurdles behind him, Faure now should be able to concentrate on applying the reform programs for Morocco and Algeria which the Assembly approved.

The Assembly's work schedule has not been set yet, but it appeared unlikely any debates dangerous for the government would be scheduled until after the Geneva meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers. That conference opens Oct. 27 and is expected to continue three or four weeks.

In voting confidence in the government, the Assembly ap-

Free Rabies Clinics Dates

The Ulster County Board of Supervisors recently appropriated funds to be used in vaccination of dogs in a series of clinics throughout the county following certification of Ulster county as an area where endemic rabies exists.

The schedule of clinics, listed below, was set up by the Ulster County Health Department.

Dr. Dudley Hargrave, Ulster county health commissioner, said vaccination of dogs would control the spread of rabies in animals close to man and his home.

HE URGED that all dog owners recognize the responsibility they have to their family and neighbors in protecting their dog against rabies. In humans the disease is fatal once clinical symptoms develop. Treatment of humans bitten is expensive and not without some risk.

Dr. Hargrave pointed out that early clinics have been scattered purposely to cover as wide an area as possible before the upland hunting season opens October 24.

A clinic was held at the Woodstock Firehouse October 13. Yesterday they were held in Shawangunk, town of Shawangunk, village of Saugerties and at Cortis House in Kingston. The clinics are held from 7 to 9 p. m.

TONIGHT CLINICS will be held at the Kerhonkson Firehouse in the town of Wawarsing, Highland Firehouse in the town of Lloyd, Wicks Firehouse in Kingston and the Port Ewen Town Barn in the town of Esopus.

Immediate Action Is Stressed

Ask State Groups For Study Reports

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Republican majority leaders of the Legislature today launched a study of insurance against losses from hurricanes, severe wind storms and flash floods.

"While we are fully aware that it is impossible to provide insurance against every conceivable loss which may be experienced, we believe that consideration of insurance against disasters of these types should no longer be delayed," said Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck and Walter J. Mahoney, Senate majority leader.

MEANWHILE, showers continued to fall at intervals in scattered areas throughout the state. They added to the gloom in the communities stricken by last weekend's floods, but the Weather Bureau said no further flooding was expected. The bureau said the heaviest overnight fall reported was a half-inch at Poughkeepsie.

The bureau predicted partial clearing tonight and tomorrow. The party leaders asked Assemblymen Elisha T. Barrett of Suffolk county, chairman of the joint legislative committee on interstate cooperation, and Jerry W. Black of Schuyler county, chairman of the Flood Control Commission, to begin a joint inquiry. They asked that the state groups obtain "all of the information required for policy decisions by the time Congress and the Legislature reconvene in January."

"ONCE AGAIN disaster in the form of flood has struck at New York communities," the leaders said in letters to Barrett and Black. "Lives have been lost and both private and public property damaged."

"In the course of years many parts of the state have experienced similar losses from hurricanes, severe wind storms and flash floods. These have varied only in scope and extent."

HECK AND MAHONEY asked that the investigation determine:

"1. The extent to which individuals and municipalities may and do insure against losses in such disasters, the cost of such insurances and the loss experience."

"2. The kinds of federal assistance available and the circumstances under which this may be obtained."

"3. Through members of Congress from New York and the Council of State Governments the various proposals which have been made for a federal system of disaster insurance."

"4. The feasibility of a state system of aid to municipalities and school districts to assist them in the event of heavy losses in relation to their tax-

Wharton, Harriman Respond to Appeal

Private Property Loss Is Estimated By CD as $5,422,500; Public $2,970,500

Immediate aid for Kingston and Ulster county has been requested by Sen. Arthur H. Wicks with early estimates of flood damage soaring to eight and a half million dollars—the worst disaster in Ulster county history.

Early estimates by the Kingston-Ulster Civil Defense Council—based on approximately 100 telephone calls to every part of the county—indicate private damage of perhaps $5,422,500 and public damage (roads, bridges, schools, etc.) of approximately $2,970,500.

The estimate of public damage does not include damage to state or federal property, such as state bridges, the Thruway, etc. Damage to farmlands is not included in the estimate of private losses.

THE ESTIMATE of losses in floods last weekend greatly exceeds the damage estimates of the flood eight weeks ago. At that time the public damage was placed at $1,690,000 and private damage at perhaps a million and a half.

In a telephone conversation on Monday with Congressman Ernest J. Wharton, Sen. Wicks advised him of the extent of damage to highways, bridges and private property in the county, and the loss of life, and requested Mr. Wharton to contact the federal administrator of Civil Defense in Washington to ask that Ulster county be declared a disaster area so that all flood sufferers would be eligible for assistance.

SEN. WICKS received the assurance of Congressman Wharton that he would contact all federal agencies at once and make every effort to obtain whatever assistance might be available.

Sen. Wicks also communicated with Gov. Harriman by letter, describing the county's need for as much aid as possible "at the earliest possible moment."

He asked the governor to designate Ulster county "as a disaster area and that you name a responsible person from the State Department of Public Works to make a damage survey in the county to provide the necessary aid to repair the damage and to take preventive measures against future flood damage."

HARRIMAN REPLIED that District Engineer H. L. Bixby was in the area directing full-scale road rehabilitation in cooperation with the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The governor also advised the senator that as soon as emergency repairs were completed a representative of the Department of Public Works would make a detailed survey of conditions in Ulster county. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Uncertainty Surrounds Princess Meg Romance

London, Oct. 19 (AP)—Britain's royal family dashed off in all directions today, going about its usual round of official duties just as if the nation wasn't in a furious tizzy over Princess Margaret's romance with Peter Townsend.

Margaret flew from London Airport in a pouring rain to present new colors to a regiment at Bulford, in the west of England.

The Duke of Edinburgh, the queen's husband, drove to Barking, outside London for an industrial inspection trip. This afternoon he was to attend a meeting of the Physical Recreation Council in London.

MAHONEY CHARGES Harriman Tried To Cut School Aid

Rochester, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—The Republican majority leader of the State Senate charged today that Gov. Harriman had "tried to cut state aid to upstate public schools."

Walter J. Mahoney asserted, "It was only after the Republicans told the public what was going on" that Harriman "was forced to repudiate" a plan Mahoney said was favored by Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York city.

IN A SPEECH prepared for delivery at a Republican women's luncheon, Mahoney said Harriman and Comptroller Arthur Levitt had been attempting to "hide these facts."

Mahoney's remarks ripped wide open a controversy that originated in last year's gubernatorial campaign. Republicans had charged that Harriman's election would result in cuts in state aid upstate. They issued estimates of the amount they said would be reduced in each locality.

Democrats indignantly denied the charge. Since the election, Harriman has declared that the reductions have not taken place.

"THE GOVERNOR and the state comptroller have been going around the state trying to claim credit for the increases in state aid which school districts (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

Knowledge of A-War Result May Make Reds Accept Plan

Point Clear, Ala., Oct. 19 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen hinted broadly last night that Russia's leaders may accept President Eisenhower's arms inspection plan because Red scientists are telling them the truth about the terrible destruction that would go with an atomic war.

The President's special assistant on disarmament told reporters he thinks the odds are in favor of an eventual agreement with the Russians. And he added, "there could be some developments in this field at the foreign ministers meeting in Geneva later this month."

Stassen said: Their (the Soviet) scientists are telling the Communist leaders the same thing our scientists are telling us—that the alternative to peace is the threat of atomic destruction.

He went on to say that when the Russians achieve a depth of understanding of the awful alternatives to peace, then "we can begin working out the hard issues."

Stassen gave his views to reporters after telling the 21st annual southern governors conference that if Russia accepts the President's inspection plan, then the world will have time in which to find a means of controlling atomic materials. The (Continued on Page 21, Col. 7)

Hits GOP on D-Y
Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 19 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said today the Dixon-Yates contract is a "fine example of devious dealings by the monopolistic interests controlling the government." Kefauver, who is regarded as a possible Democratic presidential aspirant in 1956, accused the Eisenhower administration of failing to check what he termed a "drive toward monopoly" in business and industry. He said this in remarks prepared for the 57th convention of the National Assn. of Retail Druggists.

Connelly Urges Support of Stang For Second Term

Vincent G. Connelly, former Republican city chairman, speaking on behalf of the candidacy of Frederick H. Stang before a group of Republican women workers at the Governor Clinton Hotel Tuesday evening said that time has brought the best refutation of the imaginary fear injected by the Democratic party two years ago that Fred Stang would spend most of his time serving private clients while ignoring his principle client, the people of our city. Mayor Stang is a lawyer.

SINCE FRED Stang's election as mayor, he has given substantially all of his time to the affairs of the city and very little time to practicing law. He has sacrificed his law practice to properly discharge his duties as mayor, he declared.

Continuing he said, on October 6th of this year the Democratic candidate for mayor stated that a lawyer spends much time in the county clerk's office searching titles; and that a lawyer spends much time in court with cases. He did not say that Fred Stang has been pursuing these activities since he became mayor but you were to infer that he has been. Now, it is a well known fact among the bar that never in his practice did Fred Stang spend any time in the county clerk's office searching titles. The September term of County Court had 96 cases on the printed calendar. In only one of these was Fred Stang attorney and that was an old case which existed prior to the time he became mayor. The October term of Supreme Court had 570 cases on its printed calendar and Fred Stang was not the attorney in any of them. The looseness of the Democratic candidate for mayor with the truth should not commend itself to you.

The Kingston Daily Freeman and Kingston-Ulster Press of July 21st also reported the remarks of the Democratic candidate for mayor when he accepted his party's nomination. He then made no constructive contribution to the problems of city government; in fact, he flew off on an irrelevant tangent. In an effort to corral for himself the votes of the friends of then County Judge Cashin, the Democratic party candidate delivered himself of an opinion of his that was as silly as it was stupid. He said that the reason Judge Cashin had not been appointed a federal judge was because the Republican party in Ulster county was no good and that the judge would have been appointed "if there had been a little more decent politics."

AT THE TIME this ill advised statement was made, the Republican leaders in this state and county knew that Judge Cashin was going to get the appointment and shortly thereafter—within a matter of two weeks—President Eisenhower appointed Judge Cashin, who is now sitting on the federal bench in New York City.

Many of us know and are fully aware how hard Senator Wicks and the Republican organization worked to obtain this appointment for Ulster county. This is the first time in the history of Ulster county that we have been honored by the appointment of a federal judge.

The candidate of the Democratic party should have told you that we had Democratic presidents in the White House for a twenty year period commencing in 1933 and despite the fact that we had many competent and qualified Democratic lawyers in Ulster county, no federal judge was ever appointed.

from this county by a Democratic president. If the ill advised and false charges which the Democratic candidate made in connection with the Cashin appointment are an example of the Democratic candidate's veracity and judgment, it would seem that nothing further he might say in this campaign deserves attention.

Please do not forget either that the Democratic candidate for Mayor who is constantly telling you what a business man he is—when he was Mayor steered the city into serious financial trouble. He was unwilling to cope with problems that presented themselves; did not seek hard solutions that were the right solutions but ignored realities in a pursuit of popularity. An example of this was his knowingly submitting an illegal city budget that was declared by the courts to be unconstitutional. City employees were compelled to sue the city to collect wages.

NOW WHAT else is the Democratic candidate for Mayor saying. At a recent meeting of Democratic women he said that he symbolized a struggle against "one party rule."

Who is he trying to fool by turning on another propaganda faucet? Under one party rule one party is so powerful and predominant that the minority party is but a voice crying in the wilderness.

We believe in the two party system, which is the foundation of American political life, and that system prevails in the City of Kingston.

In the City of Kingston since the turn of the century there have been many Republicans and Democratic administrations—which indicates that the two party system prevails.

In the City of Kingston mayoralty elections for several years have been extremely close—which indicates, too, that the two party system prevails.

In the City of Kingston we have a legislative branch of the city government—the Common Council—consisting of 13 aldermen. At the present time eight are Republicans and five are Democrats. The Democratic party, through their five aldermen, have had every opportunity to influence decisions and formulate policies of the Common Council.

This is certainly not "one party rule."

Now, returning to the candidacy of Mayor Stang, I can tell you that he has worked day and night for the people of Kingston.

HE IS not a professional hand-shaker. On the contrary, he is a serious-minded, courteous and conscientious public servant. In this era of expansion, when our population is increasing, when many problems will arise that will require careful study and prompt solution, Stang is a good, strong man to have at the helm of our Ship of State in Kingston.

It was Stang who hurriedly called a meeting of the City Water Board and who worked with the Board to give quick action to the IBM in guaranteeing to supply them with city water if they would agree to locate their plant in this area.

During the campaign, Fred will tell you in detail of the accomplishments of his administration, during the short period of less than two years, that he has been mayor. He has done a swell job. He deserves a second term so that he may complete many of the projects already started and others in the planning stage. I sincerely urge you to support him.

Opposed to Plan

Glens Falls, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—A proposal for reorganization of New York state's court system has drawn new opposition from upstate lawyers and judges. Dist. Atty. Allen W. Pulsifer of Fulton county declared yesterday that attorneys and jurists in the Fourth Judicial District were hostile to the plan, drawn up by the staff of the temporary state commission on the courts. "We have serious doubts whether this simplified plan would be digestible even when fully baked," Pulsifer said at a commission hearing. "It certainly is indigestible in its present, half-baked form."

New Army Plan Aims to Interest 17-18½ Age Group

The Army has launched a pilot program to commence October 1 through December 31, 1955, in accordance with Congressional enactment of the Reserve Forces Act of 1955. The program is attractively designed to induce the enlistment of young men between the ages of 17-18½ who have not yet been ordered to report for induction.

AS A MEANS to build up and retain a nucleus of fighting strength for the defense of America, the Army is inaugurating a six months active duty period for this age group or a total enlistment for eight years in a Ready Reserve Unit of the Army Reserve.

The implementation of such a plan will permit greater latitude for young men in this age group to pursue their civilian careers almost uninterruptedly, and yet permit the Army to maintain defensive strength at a reserve level which hitherto had not been too virile.

For additional information, qualified young men between the ages of 17-18½ are advised to see their local recruiter at Kingston City Hall every Monday and Thursday from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Appointment Due Soon
Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, whose appointment as assistant defense secretary for research and development is expected momentarily, will take a 14-month leave of absence Dec. 1 from the University of Buffalo. Dr. Furnas, chancellor of the university, said the appointment had been "cleared" by Defense Secretary Charles R. Wilson. "He accepted me on the basis of a leave from the University, which I've gotten," Dr. Furnas said.

Dr. Snell to Speak
The third in a series of lectures on leadership will be delivered by Dr. Clyde Herbert Snell today at 7:30 p. m. in the

A BIG JOB WELL DONE

The spontaneous response of residents of Ulster County to alleviate suffering and hardship of their fellow citizens, who were victims of flood waters, demonstrates anew the true nature of innate kindness of the people of the community.

The agencies of mercy, whose expert and efficient operations during the flood relief work were self-evident, attest to the wholehearted and generous cooperation upon the part of the people during the tragic week-end situations caused by the surging flood waters. Shelter was made available for the evacuees and food and clothing were furnished with speed and in abundance. The assistance rendered in many ways by many helping hands was a genuine exemplification of the real American spirit.

The Civilian Defense organization coordinating and correlating the work of the emergency forces did a magnificent job. The personnel of the Civilian Defense not only worked efficiently and effectively but they labored tirelessly and many at great sacrifice.

Working with the Civilian Defense were many groups which shared the responsibility of safeguarding the public. The members of these various organizations also worked tirelessly and selflessly as well as efficiently. Included in these groups were the Auxiliary Police, 156th Field Artillery, volunteer fire companies, Salvation Army, veterans' organizations and auxiliaries, Junior Chamber of Commerce and air patrol. Members of these and other organizations assisted the Civilian Defense, the police and the various departments of the city and county government.

The Red Cross will continue its work of rehabilitation in furnishing food, clothing, shelter and medical care and assisting families restore their capacity to reach and maintain its pre-disaster standard of living.

All in all it was a tremendous job, superbly directed and executed. The residents of our community are profoundly grateful to all who helped in any way to bring aid and comfort to their neighbors.

NOT READY FOR VISITORS

Space travelers, be prepared for a shock. The first journey to a definite destination beyond Earth would naturally be to the moon. It is known that landing there and remaining if only for a very short time would present problems, but now it appears that this operation will be even harder than it was thought. According to an article in the British science journal, Nature, English physicists who have been measuring the strength of radio signals sent to the moon find that that body has even less atmosphere than was previously calculated.

In fact, it is only a matter of courtesy to call it an atmosphere at all. It is a million million times weaker than the earth's atmosphere at sea level. Landing on the moon would be the next thing to landing in a vacuum. Some special preparations, not previously taken into account, will have to be made to meet this complication.

Readers of science fiction may consider this obstacle trivial.

WHERE WE ARE HEADING

Michael J. Quill, chief of New York City's Transport Workers' Union, would head off prohibitive fares on the subways by forbidding parking in all the city's boroughs, and the use of automobiles in Manhattan. He would take this drastic action before the Christmas shopping season, when congestion bids fair to bring all traffic to a standstill.

Any such action would probably bring about such a general outcry as to make the city administration's position politically impossible. But in a city like Manhattan, where natural boundaries of the rivers make expansion almost out of the question, something like this may have to be done. Without some such root-and-branch regulation, automobile movement in Manhattan may cease to exist.

What is on the verge of happening in New York could happen elsewhere. It is

CONTROVERSIES

I was sitting with some newspapermen recently and the point was made that there are not enough controversies in the newspapers. Another added the opinion that the reason why there are not so many controversies is that people are happy that after years of quarrelling over the New Deal and War and Communists, folks are glad to have some peaceful relief.

It all depends upon the generation. Older folks can grow very disputatious about the vile manners of the younger generations and surely their manners are not Chesterfieldian. A Bear Brommel of the present era seems to be a fellow in knee pants with a black coat and a pink shirt. To the sober, he resembles the sort of pink thing one might see from drinking too much Irish whiskey or undiluted vodka. Young men resist neckties or wear them open at the throat, and as for the gals—Heavens to Betsy!

But if one is among the quite young, he can get himself into an argument on the virtues of Dixieland Jazz, or the superiority of Bach over the Romantics, or the need for a 1950-1960 F. Scott Fitzgerald, a novelist who will understand this age, or the need for a religious emotional expression.

Politics! Well, really the younger people wonder what the older people get so excited about. "Deaf for me," shouts youth, "the difference between a Republican and a Democrat." "I want no loose oratory," says youth. "Tell me with precision of thought and language what the difference is between an Eisenhower Republican or a Taft Republican or between Stevenson and Harriman. If you can't be precise, I'll vote for Margaret Truman or Princess Margaret or any Margaret. What difference does it really make?"

The last great issue that excited youth was Joe McCarthy. They were violently for or against McCarthy and their violence was full of excitement and disputation. But they are not arguing that way about anything now, not even about Peron's baby harem or whether Ingrid Bergman should be admitted into the United States to do a picture and restore her fortune. None of this excites the young. In my day, when I was very young, we could get up an argument about Woman Suffrage but we all, old and young, know now that women have not purified politics. In fact, let's face it, politics seems to make women more like what the women used to believe men were like in the old days.

So no one talks about what has happened to the emancipated woman. I recently raised that question with teen-aged girls, but they had never heard about the emancipation of women. They expected to find a guy who would support them as best he might, but they did not expect to be much and figured that they would have to work for a living for a longer time than their mothers did, but it was on account of taxation.

One can start plenty of controversies because they exist but they are more personal than general. What about delayed marriages on account of conscription? That is something that gets young people so sore that they do not delay their marriages at all. They get married as soon as they can, even while at school, and hope for the best. Is it good?

There is a controversy that might have run in the newspapers for months in the old days, with all the great of the Earth speaking pro and con and advising all and sundry. And there would be photographs of student families on every campus and the professors sounding off on whether these married students work better than boys and girls who go necking of a Friday night.

What is important? How does anyone know except that he can say what interests him most. The followers of Father Feeney in Boston are young. Tanglewood attracts the young who can fight through the night on why Handel's "Water Music" is ruined by most orchestras; at Jimmy Ryans, youth listens to Dixieland Jazz and says it is music; in the M.R.A., youth is on a permanent religious revival.

No controversies! If one is young, there is never a moment without one. The real trouble is that the adult generation has grown too old and too tired and it turns to the comic strip which was originally done for children, while the children know exactly what E equals MC square means.

That Body of Yours

PSITTACOSIS AND RABIES

We have been discussing, for the past couple of days, infectious diseases and how they must be guarded against continually in order to keep our death rate down, avoid much loss of time due to illness, and prevent many of the results from the diseases contracted in childhood that can affect us in later years. Today we will consider two diseases of infectious nature, psittacosis and rabies, which are transmitted to man from birds and animals.

Psittacosis, or parrot fever, is a contagious illness of parrots, parakeets, and some domestic flocks of poultry which is communicable to man and is marked by disorders of the lungs and bronchial tubes and high fever. This disease is one that has shown a marked increase, rather than decrease, in recent years. For example, there was an average of only 22 reported cases each year from 1945 to 1951 (there may, of course, have been many more unrecognized cases). In 1952, the number of cases rose to 135, in 1953 to 169. In 1954, the figure had leaped to 444 cases.

The disease is present among parakeets, which recently have become a favorite among household pets and is also present among some domestic fowl. A sick parakeet and a stubborn chest disease in a member of the household is sufficient reason to suspect psittacosis. Unfortunately, to date no immunizing agents have been developed that can be used against psittacosis in either bird or man. Its control involves co-operation of owners, producers and distributors in treating and destroying diseased birds, as well as education of the bird-loving population.

Rabies, or hydrophobia, is one of the frightful infections from which man has suffered from ancient times and although few deaths are reported each year, the majority are among children from five to 14 years of age. It comes from a bite from a diseased dog, as a rule, or from other forms of wild animal life, including insect-eating bats.

We do not yet know all the sources from which this disease may come and that more study and investigations must be made to determine all animal species that could be responsible for transmitting rabies to domestic animals and man. A dog suffering with rabies becomes irritable and restless and seeks to bite other dogs, large or small, tends to wander from home, and loses its appetite although it may exhibit a desire to gnaw at mats, woodwork or rubbish of any kind. Should it be suspected that a person has been bitten by a dog which is rabid, the matter should be reported at once to the medical authorities or as soon as possible the patient should apply at the nearest Pasteur Institute.

The giving of the long series of injections necessary to prevent rabies following a bite from an infected animal is a particularly disagreeable procedure and has many dangers. However, untreated rabies is practically always fatal.

Larsen's Washington News Notebook

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—With the exception of flashes of pungent wit by Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson, meetings of Ike's Cabinet are pretty routine, businesslike sessions.

There is nothing like the eruption of personality clashes between former Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones and Agriculture Secretary Henry Wallace in meetings of Franklin Roosevelt's Cabinet. Nor are there the banter and frank political discussions of Harry Truman's Cabinet sessions.

Because of the importance of their departments and their own strong personalities, Wilson and Secretary of State Dulles take part in most debates.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Attorney General Brownell are in on all discussion of the financial and legal aspects to most Cabinet problems.

But the rest of the heads of the departments stick pretty much to discussions of their immediate problems and programs. And their activity in Cabinet meetings is a good indication of the roles they will play in the administration during the period of Ike's convalescence.

THEY ALL HAVE IKE'S CONFIDENCE and backing to act in their special spheres, and will continue to do so.

The possible exception to the stay-in-your-own-back-yard attitude of the rest of the Cabinet is Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks. As former treasurer of the Republican National Committee, a former senator and successful business executive, Weeks has always had the respectful ear of the President and Cabinet on top-level political and economic matters.

Weeks will continue to exert a conservative, businesslike influence on government policies beyond the scope of his own department's activities.

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield has been a most pleasant surprise to Ike. The job traditionally has been a patronage plum for the chairman of the victorious national political committee. That's how Summerfield got it.

But he has pleased Ike—and the rest of the Cabinet—greatly by making the post office more efficient, modernizing its transportation system and getting it closer to a paying basis. He worked so hard it put him in the hospital for a time recently.

BUT THE POSTMASTER GENERAL is well. He continues his work to streamline the postal service and is an important guide to the administration on midwest politics.

Once at the start of his administration, and just before the attack, Ike went out of his way to indicate his full support for his Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, when Benson found himself in a crisis. This indicates that Benson will continue to be the administration's agricultural spokesman and chief farm policy executive.

Ike and the rest of the Cabinet are impressed with Benson's courage and integrity and his vast, detailed knowledge of the country's farm problems. For the next few months, even if Benson wanted to, he wouldn't have time for tending to anything but the country's farm problems and the running of his department.

Although Marion B. Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, is the newest member of the Cabinet, in the seat vacated by Mrs. Hobby, he is a veteran of Cabinet sessions. As former undersecretary of the Treasury he frequently sat in for Humphrey.

THE FACT THAT FOLSOM is a veteran in the administration and already an expert on most operations of his multifunction agency means that he will continue to run in with the independence he enjoyed before Ike's attack.

The two most silent men of the Cabinet in its meetings have been Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay.

That is, they've confined themselves exclusively to matters which concern their departments. And that's what they will continue to do.

McKay is currently under heavy attack by the Democrats for what they call his "give-away" policies. As the expert and spokesman for the GOP's power policies, he will also have his hands full during the coming months. Public power is likely to be a major issue during the next presidential campaign.

I want to thank the people of the United States for all of their encouraging letters. I thank God, too. He gave me the knowledge to know opera.

Gino Prato, opera-loving colorist, who won $32,000 on TV show.

If these little men who put lists of bills in the President's pocket would also inform the President what has happened to those bills and why, he (Mr. Eisenhower) would find it futile to make a partisan analysis of what another branch of government has or has not done.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson.

U.S. Visitor Reports Russia Has Segregated School Setup

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 18 — For months the Soviet radio has been conducting a propaganda campaign against the United States on the ground that there is segregation of schools in the south as between Negroes and whites. Now comes evidence of Russian hypocrisy. They themselves practice segregation, though little has been known about it.

Robert F. Kennedy, who has just finished a tour of a "closed" section of the Soviet republics in company with Justice William O. Douglas of the Supreme Court of the United States, makes the disclosure about segregation in a copyrighted interview in "U. S. News and World Report."

Mr. Kennedy, who is a son of Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to Great Britain, took leave of absence from his post as counsel for the Senate subcommittee on permanent investigations, paid his own expenses, and made a first-hand study of conditions in the central Asian region of the Soviet Union, where up to now no visitors from the United States have been permitted to go.

FEW PEOPLE realize that this region of five Soviet republics has a population of about 20,000,000 persons and covers a bigger area than India before its partition and is larger than all of western Europe. The people are for the most part of Turkish and Iranian stock with a strong Mongolian strain.

Following is the colloquy after Mr. Kennedy was asked: "How do they (the Russian soldiers) understand the language?"

"A—I don't think they have any problem with that—in personal life, the Russian probably don't have much contact with the local people. In addition, more and more people now understand Russian. This is so despite the fact that the Russians maintain one set of schools for their children and another set for the children of the children of the local people. It is a segregated school system."

"Q—Why is that?"

"A—The explanation of the officials gave us is that people like their own schools."

"Q—It isn't a racial question?"

"A—I believe that is a reasonable assumption. In every city that we visited in Central Asia the schools were segregated—the Russian school children in one school, the local children in another."

"Q—Is there a difference in color between the Russians and the natives?"

"A—Oh, yes, they are completely different."

"Q—I mean in color."

"A—Oh, yes. The Russians are European, white. The natives are Mongolian—a dark race."

MR. KENNEDY says he found the people friendly, but that Communist party leaders were inclined to be hostile. He adds that their so-called labor unions are dictated to by the Russian government and that the whole Russian system is a form of slavery, since everybody must work for the state.

"How do you account for the fact that so many people in America who call themselves 'liberals' are so enthusiastic for us to recognize them and play ball with them?" Mr. Kennedy was asked.

"I think the same groups have made mistakes before," he replied.

The interview then went on: "Q—It seems to me everything you have said would be anathema to any real 'liberal'."

"A—That is what I can't understand either . . .

"Q—Did they make a great many concessions to you over there?"

"A—Some concessions, at least over the old policies—the fact that we are allowed to travel in Central Asia at all, and, in addition, I think they showed us things and allowed us to do things they wouldn't have permitted a year ago, but I don't think it adds up to a great deal. Since they have changed their policy nobody has gained but them. The fact that Justice Douglas, five Senators and Bob Kennedy were able to go to Russia—that is for America to get out of it? . . .

Why don't they announce they are withdrawing support from India, Burma or Malaya, or even Italy, or France or this country? Why don't they actually come through and withdraw support and stop supplying money to their forces within the countries that are trying to overthrow the local governments?"

Mr. Kennedy suggested, too, that the Russians should withdraw their troops from Poland and eastern Europe, allow the unification of Germany, and give back independence to the people of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

"Let's have something like that. Or let's allow complete arms inspection. I think they should make some definite contribution other than tipping their hat and smiling . . .

"I AM HOPEFUL, like everybody in the world, that what happened at the Geneva conference and what will happen at the meetings of the foreign ministers will mean peace for all. However, on the basis of what I saw and learned in Russia, I am very distrustful that we will get anything other than smiles."

"We are dealing with a government to whom God, the family or the individual means nothing and whose practice it has been in the past to make promises and treaties to serve their purposes and to break them when it has been to their advantage. It can only be suicidal for us during this period on the basis of smiles to strengthen Russia and weaken ourselves."

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Berlin — The return to West Germany of the last parties of military prisoners of war from Soviet Russia, many of them from Siberia, reminded me over and over as the hours dragged on in the autumn chill, that the Communist is a horrible brute who can smile, for an ulterior purpose, but cannot be reasoned with.

It is futile to appeal to decency or pity in him. He has no such qualities. Here were men of the highest degree of western civilization weeping as they set foot on the soil of their beloved homeland after ten years of hunger, torture and slavery. They were physically not the worst of because other PW's whose health cracked up in the continuous process over the last eight years. Most of them came through the cage at Friedland near the frontier of Communist East Germany and Republican West Germany, a camp now swayed back and badly run down from weather and wear and tear.

These men of the last batch, called war criminals by the Russian Communist Government, were tough in character and physical stamina, many of them wore quilted jackets of the Chinese and oriental Russian soldiers and knit wool slippers or tennis shoes with rubber soles. Some had travelled 14 days in box-cars starting through eight feet of snow.

Now it is not hard to recall that these same men and millions more or less like them went whooping into Czechoslovakia and Poland during the so-called honeymoon between Hitler and Stalin. They certainly were "aggressors," but that term never has deserved the value that we have given it. We won our country by aggression. We certainly were the aggressors against Hitler's Germany in World War 2, and our noble allies, Britain, France and Russia all were conquerors of weaker peoples. Moreover, the Germans had been robbed of many millions of their countrymen and much of their homeland by the Versailles Treaty. When Hitler thought he was strong enough to take them back he set out to do so. And, while he was at it, to drive the Bolsheviks back into their darkness. That certainly would have been a service to Christianity and mankind.

It is futile to speculate whether Hitler would have dealt nobly with the people of the west. However, there is evidence

Announce County Traffic Changes

Albany, Oct. 19—Joseph P. Kelly, chairman of the New York State Traffic Commission, has announced the recent issuance of the following orders by the commission:

In Plattekill, ordered the erection of stop signs on Church street and Plattekill turnpike at their intersections with Route 32.

Woman Is Hurt Near High Falls In Auto Mishap

Harriet Lapp, 58, of Allgerville, who was injured in a one-car accident this morning on the Lucas avenue turnpike about three miles south of High Falls, was reported in fair condition early this afternoon at Veterans Memorial Hospital in Ellenville.

Trooper H. H. Ganss of the Kingston state police, who investigated, said she suffered internal and back injuries.

THE CAR, operated by Herman Tanchian, 35, of Box 76, High Falls, was traveling south about 9:30 a. m. when it hit a spot which had been covered with flood waters and was slippery with mud and slime. Trooper Ganss reported. He said the car skidded across the north-bound lane, went off the west side of the road and struck a telephone pole.

A passing motorist took Mrs. Lapp to the hospital. The pole was not broken but telephone lines were reported down.

Would Alter

funds, pension plans and work schedules—could be "definitely and certainly worked out" to put it in operation once it was accepted as a wise course.

The Democratic leader suggested also that the committee consider investigating some form of tax inducement to private employers to retain older people on their staffs. Such a system, he said, probably would work in the unemployment insurance field, in the form of tax rebates.

Wharton . . .

with an eye to future flood control and prevention programs.

"IN THE MEANTIME I have requested that President Eisenhower bring into operation all federal disaster programs which can be of assistance to flood victims, including emergency loans and other forms of aid to individuals, business and farmers. This request includes Ulster county."

The office of the U. S. Veterans Administration, 286 Fair street, will again function as a county disaster office for flood victims, it has been announced by F. William Sheehan, officer in charge. Mr. Sheehan said the office would process any hardship cases wherein property guaranteed by the Veterans Administration was involved.

The Farmers Home Administration, 54 John street, has again been designated to receive production or economic emergency loans, it was announced today by Frank Norman, who directs the local office.

MR. NORMAN pointed out that applications could be made for almost any purpose to keep a man in business. Loans can be made to repair and clean up land damage, possibly to repair a building, to replace a tractor or other equipment lost in the flood, etc. Loans for replacement of any definite losses of livestock are valid, for example. No loans are available, of course, if they can be obtained from the usual local credit sources.

Dale Swartzmiller, regional director of the New York State Department of Commerce office in Kingston, said representatives of his office would be held this afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock at which time supervisors might submit tentative claims of damage in their respective townships to representatives of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

A partial breakdown of estimated damage was prepared by Mr. H. Edgar Timmerman, deputy director of the Kingston Ulster Civil Defense Council after results of telephone calls and consultations with mayors, road superintendents, supervisors, public works and other officials throughout the county. This breakdown follows:

Town of Shandaken—private damage, $750,000; public damage, $250,000.

Town of Rochester—private damage, $300,000; public damage, $800,000.

Town of Rosendale—private damage, $1,500,000; public damage, $100,000.

Town of Ellenville—private damage, $1,000,000; public damage, $350,000.

Town of Wawarsing—private damage, $300,000; public damage, $500,000.

Major Timmerman was careful to point out that these estimates were all very rough.

HE ESTIMATED private damage in the city of Kingston, including losses at Island Dock, Hiltbrand, Central Hudson, etc., at approximately $500,000.

Major Timmerman said flood damage to the Walkill line of the New York Central Railroad had been estimated at approximately $200,000, and damage to the Catskill Mountain Line near Mr. Tremper at $120,000.

He reported the whole upper basin of the Ashokan Reservoir filled with debris, logs, sticks, etc.,—"acres of it." It will require quite a cleanup operation, he said.

MAJOR TIMMERMAN said the local Civilian Defense office had received many interesting requests. One woman called to ask when the Civil Defense office was going to get around to clean up her yard!

He said it had been reported to him that a committee of three Mennonites (distinctive garb and wearing beards) had arrived in Rosendale yesterday, offering to provide 100 men from their community near Stroudsburg, Pa., to help the village clean up. It was reported that they had offered to bring their own trucks, mops, brooms, etc.

IN THE Rosendale area, which was one of the communities hardest hit by the floods, The Salvation Army has been on the job continuously since Saturday night. They are serving the people coffee and sandwiches and furnishing clothing and assisting in the operations of rehabilitating the victims of the flood.

Uncertainty

discussions of the romance since the return of the queen from Scotland yesterday. It was doubtful if even high ranking court officials knew exactly what was said in the talks.

THERE WAS STILL no indication then—if ever—an official statement would be issued on the romance.

Chief attention focused on the dinner tonight which Margaret, the queen and other members of the royal family were to attend at Lambeth Palace, home of the Archbishop of Canterbury across the Thames from the Houses of Parliament.

The tabloid Daily Mirror, which has spoken out in favor of the princess' romance, carried this headline: "Margaret dines tonight with prince who won't marry her to Townsend."

Also invited were all the church bishops who along with the royal family were to attend the pre-dinner dedication of the palace chapel, damaged in the war and now repaired. Townsend was not on the list.

Mahoney Charges

stricts are receiving this year," Mahoney said.

"These increases are the result of two factors: (1) The repeated upward revision in the state-aid formula under the Dewey administration and (2) the increasing number of pupils."

State aid to school districts is based on a complex series of formulas adopted about 30 years ago under the administration of the late Gov. Alfred E. Smith. They are based partially on population but adjustments are made to compensate communities whose real-estate tax base is comparatively low.

Thus, some small upstate school districts receive more than 90 per cent of their education costs from the state while New York city is paid roughly a third in state aid. Some communities receive less than a third.

A STATE COMMISSION is reviewing the entire subject of educational finance and is expected to report late this year.

Pending the commission report, a law was enacted at the 1955 session of the Legislature postponing the application of new equalization rates to the school-aid formulas. Use of the new rates would have reduced state aid to many upstate districts.

MAHONEY SAID:

"It was only after Republicans told the public what was going on that Mayor Wagner favored a flat grant plan, that the Democrat candidate for comptroller, Arthur Levitt, was on record as having declared the equalization principle obsolete, and that the Democrat platform of 1954 was carefully worded to avoid any reference to equalization and referred instead to the elimination of 'inequities'—it was only then that Harriman was forced to repudiate the flat grant proposal."

Mahoney contended also that Harriman's record for federal aid to education at the expense of New York state. He did not elaborate.

THE SENATOR maintained that the operation of the federal government during President Eisenhower's illness "showed that the Republicans are, in fact, a team—a team that knows how to work together and how the government at Washington, free from factionalism and intrigue."

He contrasted this with the illness of the late President Woodrow Wilson in 1919.

"A little clique composed of Mrs. Wilson, the White House physician and one of their cronies actually seized the presidency," he said, and ran the Democratic administration "from Wilson's sickbed." Mahoney continued:

"When we contrast that sinister episode of two generations ago with the orderly, organized performance of the Eisenhower team at Washington, we have every right to be proud of our party and of our great President."

Former Troopers Are Eligible for Valley Chapter

A. P. Broadfield, of Poughkeepsie, nominee for president of the newly formed Mid-Hudson Chapter, Former New York State Police Association, today issued notice that all former state troopers in the Kingston area are eligible to join the unit.

The Mid-Hudson Chapter received its charter from State President George Homa last Friday night at the American Legion Hall, Mill street, Poughkeepsie. It will elect officers at the same place Nov. 18.

Broadfield stressed that the first unit of the New York State Police was organized by Dr. George F. Chandler, a Kingston man, and that several Kingston men were in the original group.

Among them was Henry R. Forst, secretary-treasurer of the Forst Packing Co., Inc., 113 E. Main street, who is to be a member of the new association. Others from the city in the original unit were the late Delancy DeGraff and John Weber.

All former troopers or officers in the state police are eligible to join the association, Broadfield said and those interested are asked to contact him at 5 Harrison street, Poughkeepsie.

Police Speaker

Grand Jurors Association committee.

Sergeant Tomshaw cautioned the children to keep out of mischief and to avoid strangers who might catch them. If a youngster is followed by a stranger on the street, he said the child should go to a home, particularly at night where a light is shining and report any strange action.

AVOID MISCHIEF and damage to other people's property and attempt in every way to avoid trouble of any kind, Sergeant Tomshaw said. He pointed out that difficulty in early life could handicap the adult life of a person and he asked the children to avoid difficulty in their youth.

This program of speaking to school children of the city was sponsored by the Grand Jurors Association and all of the schools of the city will be visited and talks given. In the county areas the Magistrates Association is sponsoring a similar program at the request of the Grand Jurors Association.

County Legion Meeting

The county committee of the American Legion will meet at Highland High School Monday, Oct. 24, at 8 p. m.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—The stock market advanced today in its fourth straight rise.

In the early afternoon, prices were up from 1 to around 2 points in most major divisions while losses were small.

Trading was moderate with the pace right around yesterday's 1,550,000 shares.

Many blue chips were out in front of the rise and active and there was considerable activity at slightly higher prices in the aircrafts. Good individual gains were made in the steels, motors, rubbers, railroads, oils, radio-televisions, the aluminum, and coppers.

Yesterday we saw how important it is to protect your trump suit. This may still be important even if your trump suit looks big and strong enough to take care of itself.

You couldn't ask for a better or stronger trump suit than the spades in today's hand. Nevertheless this suit isn't quite as strong as it looks.

Play the hand in slapdash style and see what happens to you. West opens the queen of hearts, and the suit is continued. You ruff the second heart very wisely. You certainly can't afford to let the enemy take two heart tricks when you must sooner or later give up a club and a diamond.

Now, in slapdash style, you begin to draw trumps. You find that four rounds of trumps are necessary, and this process leaves you with only one trump.

What next? You lead a club, and East takes the ace of clubs and leads a third heart, forcing out your last trump. You must now tackle the diamonds, but this allows East to take the ace of diamonds and defeat you with the rest of the hearts. Your magnificent six-card trump suit didn't last long enough!

The solution to the problem is to make proper use of dummy's miserable little singleton deuce of trumps. This little fellow is just as powerful as your six high trumps.

You win the second trick by ruffing a heart, but you do not draw trumps. Instead, you lead diamonds until somebody takes the ace. A heart is returned, and you must ruff again. Now you lead a club to force out the ace of that suit.

When East takes the ace of clubs he cannot lead a fourth heart. Dummy's trump is still there to stop the heart suit. If against Bolshevism. Those Russians certainly were not Communists, but the fact always confronts us that communism always can muster enough brutes to serve its horrible purpose against human beings.

We have had in our own country, too few Russians to make as strong an impression as our Germans made. But to contend that the Gestapo and the SS of Hitler were representative Germans is futile in the presence of the heritage of character, culture and good citizenship of our heavy German immigration of the years before the First World War. Their blood now flows in the main stream of our population and crime rate of their grandchildren is among the lowest. The intellectual and patriotic qualities of those descendants are inferior to no other element or "group."

We have much to be ashamed of in complicity with the Russians in this frightful persecution of prisoners of war. After all, our high command turned over thousands of Russians captured in battle in German uniforms or seized in German prisoner of war camps and sent them back to Russia to certain execution. We sent back thousands of refugee civilians to slave labor.

One contrast in this situation does us no honor. Many Germans who abhorred Hitler's brutality had recognized long before Roosevelt came to power that the Communist was a brute, insensate and ignorant of human instincts. The Germans were fighting this horrible thing in the world. But we gave strength to the arm of the brute and then, from behind when they were heavily engaged, jumped the Germans and helped the brute to win the war.

Proposal Is Made To FCC to Shift Channel 6 to UHF

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission is reported split on the question of ending the mixture of VHF and the UHF television channels in five areas where the UHF stations are asking for such action.

Commission sources indicated yesterday that the seven members had instructed the staff to prepare additional technical data for further closed sessions on the question. The commission considered it Monday.

THE ULTRA high frequency stations (Channels 14 and up) in certain areas have asked the areas be set up as UHF "islands" in which they can operate without the competition from very high frequency (Channels 2-13) competition.

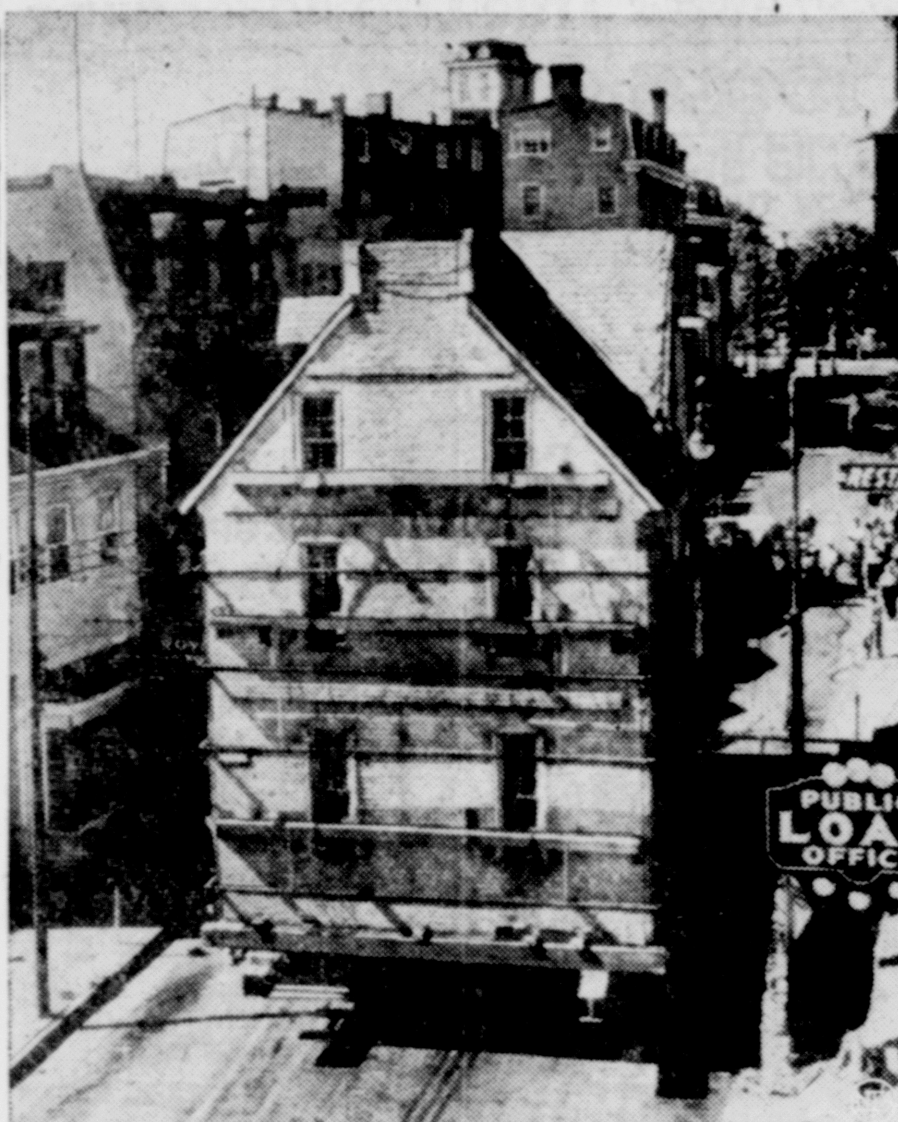

If the request is granted an existing VHF station in Schenectady, N. Y., would be required to shift to a UHF channel. TV was launched on the VHF channels. The UHF channels were not created until 1952. Most sets in use are equipped for VHF reception only. They would need a converter to receive the higher frequencies.

UHF interests contend that VHF stations get first call on network affiliation and the advertising dollar. Many UHF outlets have gone out of business in cities where they faced VHF competition.

THE COMMISSION heard arguments several weeks ago on "deteriorating" the Albany-Troy-Schenectady, N. Y., area and Peoria, Ill.; Evansville, Ind.; Madison, Wis.; and Hartford, Conn.

Each of the communities has a single VHF assignment and each has UHF in operation. In the Albany-Troy-Schenectady area the VHF channel is occupied by Schenectady Station WRBG. There are two pending proposals in the area. One provides that WRBG be required to shift to UHF, giving up Channel 6 to education and leaving all area commercial operation on UHF.

The other proposal is that a second VHF channel be assigned to the area.

No Probe Planned Of Newsprint Hike

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Justice Department has expressed interest in a Canadian manufacturer's move to increase the price of newsprint but says it is "not conducting an investigation as such."

Following an announcement yesterday by the St. Lawrence Corp., a major Canadian producer, that it is raising its per ton newsprint price by $5, a Justice Department antitrust division official said:

"We are studying the situation."

HE DID NOT elaborate beyond saying no formal investigation is underway.

Rep. Celler (D-N.Y.), chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said in New York that if other newsprint companies follow the lead of St. Lawrence by prearrangement "it's a violation of our antitrust laws."

Officials of a number of paper firms refused to say whether their companies planned similar increases.

Would Reduce U. S. Debt First

Detroit, Oct. 19 (AP)—The staff director of the Senate House Economic Committee said today reduction of the federal debt should precede any new general tax reductions.

Grover W. Ensley, the director, expressed this personal view in a speech prepared for the 48th annual conference of the National Tax Assn.

Ensley said it appeared the time was rapidly approaching when federal revenues will exceed spending. That is because, he said, expenditures including the all-important defense outlays are being stabilized at current levels, while tax receipts continue to climb in a booming economy.

But "the emergency of such a surplus in the coming year should not lead necessarily to the conclusion that it automatically justifies tax reductions," the economist said.

"A tax cut next January in the face of a booming economy would be inflationary. . . . With total demand for goods and services pressing capacity today, and with little likelihood of reducing federal demand at any foreseeable time, consistent fiscal policy would apply the surplus to reducing the 277 billion dollar public debt."

Believes Heck Is Qualified to Run As N.Y. Governor

Schenectady, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—The Republican state chairman said last night that Speaker Oswald D. Heck of the State Assembly was "eminently qualified" to run for governor in 1958.

L. Judson Morhouse, speaking at a Schenectady County Republican dinner, also said he envisioned President Eisenhower as "counselor to another progressive Republican" President if he should decide against seeking a second term.

THE STATE chairman said "any one of several Republicans, in or out of the government, can provide the leadership to carry on President Eisenhower's program."

He did not mention any possible candidates. Some New York Republicans have suggested the name of former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who is not now in government.

Morhouse called on Gov. Harriman to explain his part in a decision of the Truman administration which the Republican leader said "led to the Korean war and what he described as 'the disgraceful dismissal of General MacArthur.'"

HARRIMAN held several high posts under former President Harry S. Truman. Morhouse said:

"The people have every right to know the role played in any of these tragic decisions by the man who belittles the policies of President Eisenhower, who ended the Korean war and brought the world's firmest peace in 30 years."

Harriman to Speak At Four Dinners

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—The Democratic National Committee announced today a new series of fund-raising dinners and party gatherings, with Gov. Averell Harriman of New York listed for four speaking appearances in the northwest.

Harriman, one of three Democrats most prominently mentioned for their party's presidential nomination next year, will speak in Seattle, Wash., Dec. 21; Oregon City, Ore., Dec. 22; and Lewiston, Idaho, Dec. 23. He also will appear at a luncheon Dec. 22 in Eugene, Ore., and attend a University of Oregon convocation there the same day.

Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tenn., other top-ranking prospects for the presidential nomination, are down for one speech each and may be booked for others later.

Knight Sees GOP Victory in 1956 Regardless of Ike

Newark, N. J., Oct. 19 (AP)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California says Republicans can win the 1956 presidential election with or without President Eisenhower.

Gov. Knight, one of the nation's key Republicans, made the statement last night at a news conference preceding an Essex county $50-a-plate fund raising GOP dinner.

KNIGHT, who said he would head California's powerful 70-member delegation to the National GOP Convention, said the President, recently stricken by a heart attack, will make "the right decision at the right moment" on whether he would run for re-election.

"Republicans can win with or without" President Eisenhower, he said "but it will be much easier to win with him."

He said "it is conceivable that President Eisenhower would run," but added that only his doctors could express a responsible opinion on the subject.

Quake Is Recorded

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—A fairly sharp earthquake, about 5,600 miles from New York but in an undetermined direction, was recorded today on the Fordham University seismograph. Father Joseph J. Both Parties Have Problems

President's Illness Makes It Tough for GOP Leader

By JAMES MARLOW
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—The roof fell in on Leonard W. Hall when President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack. Before that, there was a rosy glow in the sky for Hall. Now he can't see what lies ahead.

As chairman of the Republican National Committee it's Hall's job to lay the foundations for a Republican victory in the 1956 congressional and presidential elections.

HIS COUNTERPART, Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has the same kind of job for the opposition. It's a backbreaking job for both men any time. But Hall's looked easier than Butler's—before the President fell ill Sept. 24.

The Democrats have no sure-shot candidate for their party's nomination in their convention next summer, even though at the moment Adlai Stevenson may seem to hold an edge.

And before the convention is over the scramble among Democrats may bust the party wide open.

But Hall, a lifelong politician who at 55 is genial and almost bald, saw nothing like that in store for his party. On the contrary in early September, he was in a spot Butler and any other professional politician must have envied.

TO HEAR HIM TALK, there were no storms ahead on his political lake. He was confident Eisenhower would run again. If Eisenhower did, with his immense popularity, he seemed a year ahead of time to have much better than a 50-50 chance of winning.

And if Eisenhower won he might again, as he did in 1952 pull the whole party with him and give the Republicans control of Congress once more. The whole Republican party felt the way Hall did.

All the Republican plans for 1956 seemed pinned on Eisenhower. Then on Sept. 24 the President was stricken. Now Hall merely, and not too confidently, speaks about the possibility that Eisenhower may run.

IF HE HAD TO BET privately, I'd guess he'd bet Eisenhower won't run. So Hall, an ex-judge and seven times a congressman, faces a tough year, just as tough as Butler's.

On Sept. 26, two days after Eisenhower's attack, Hall said the party's plans and strategy for 1956 had not been altered. This was pure political corn. The Republican's plans have been rocked from stem to stern.

By mid-October, as if accepting the idea Eisenhower wouldn't run, Hall was saying the party would win by taking "like's" philosophy, personality and the record of his administration.

BUT TRYING to win on Eisenhower's record may not be enough, since the voters will have to make their own judgment on the Republican candidate, whoever he is. And who he may be is something Hall doesn't know now.

From now until convention time his road, like Butler's, leads through the woods.

Says Prospects Good

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—American officials are talking hopefully again about winning Arab approval of a river development plan conceived as a means of reversing Arab-Israeli tensions. "Prospects are very good," Special Envoy Eric Johnston said last night as he reported to Secretary of State Dulles on the status of the Jordan river development plan.

North Carolina State College experts estimate it would cost 42 cents today to buy almost any other foods that would give the same nourishment as a quart of milk.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

The other day I pointed out that the Marine who went in from $32,000 to win the $64,000 Question on the TV show, was actually gambling $17,540 to win $9,000 more. In short, the final $32,000 only left him $9,000 after taxes. He was betting 2 to 1 against himself.

Mr. Hutton

This problem affects every one, rich or poor. No decision on any business matter can be made without considering the tax angle.

Big or little, he tax bite has to be considered. For example, Social Security payments would scarcely be worth the struggle, if they were not free from income taxes.

How much did Marciano or Moore have left after taxes? The Government was the big winner in both cases. And Uncle Sam did not risk a sock that could have knocked him cuckoo for the rest of his life. Except for the glory, the split of the winners in the World Series was not much more than the split of the losers, after Uncle Sam got his cut.

When General Eisenhower wrote his "Crusade in Europe," he got a ruling that spread the taxes on his royalties over a period of years.

Ex-President Truman will get a similar benefit on his new book.

The time has come to cut Joe Doaks' taxes. This means that Federal, State and local spending must be reduced, not by a few million dollars, but by billions.

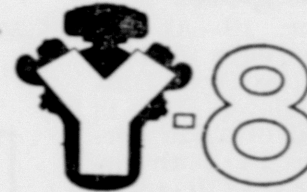

Cheer Premier Diem

Rung Sat Swamps, South Viet Nam, Oct. 19 (AP)—Battle toughened "swamp rats" of the young Vietnamese army hung from the branches of mangrove trees today to cheer Premier Ngo Dinh Diem a few hours after they heard Chief of State Dai Bao Dai had defiantly fired him. News of the absentee playboy's action in France reached the little nationalist leader at the end of an exhausting 22-hour trip into the Rung Sat marshes, 35 miles south of Saigon, where he acclaimed the army's final

Will Keep Control

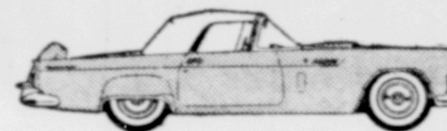

London, Oct. 19 (AP)—Russia, which granted Communist East Germany sovereignty Sept. 20, will continue to control "for the present" military traffic between West Germany and West Berlin. A note to this effect, broadcast by the Moscow radio, has been sent to the western Big Three. It replied to a U. S.-British-French note of Oct. 3 warning Russia it would still be held responsible for keeping isolated Berlin free and open to the West.

Only in Ford...Y-8 power

After 23 years of building V-8's, after building more V-8's than all other makers combined, Ford now introduces the new 202-h.p. Thunderbird Y-8*—the successor to the conventional V-8. Whether you drive in mountains, on plains, or through city streets, instant-acting Y-8 power makes all your driving more fun! Also, this new Ford engine has a deep, solidly-built block. As a result, it's a quieter, smoother-running engine with a far greater life expectancy.

Only in Ford...Thunderbird styling

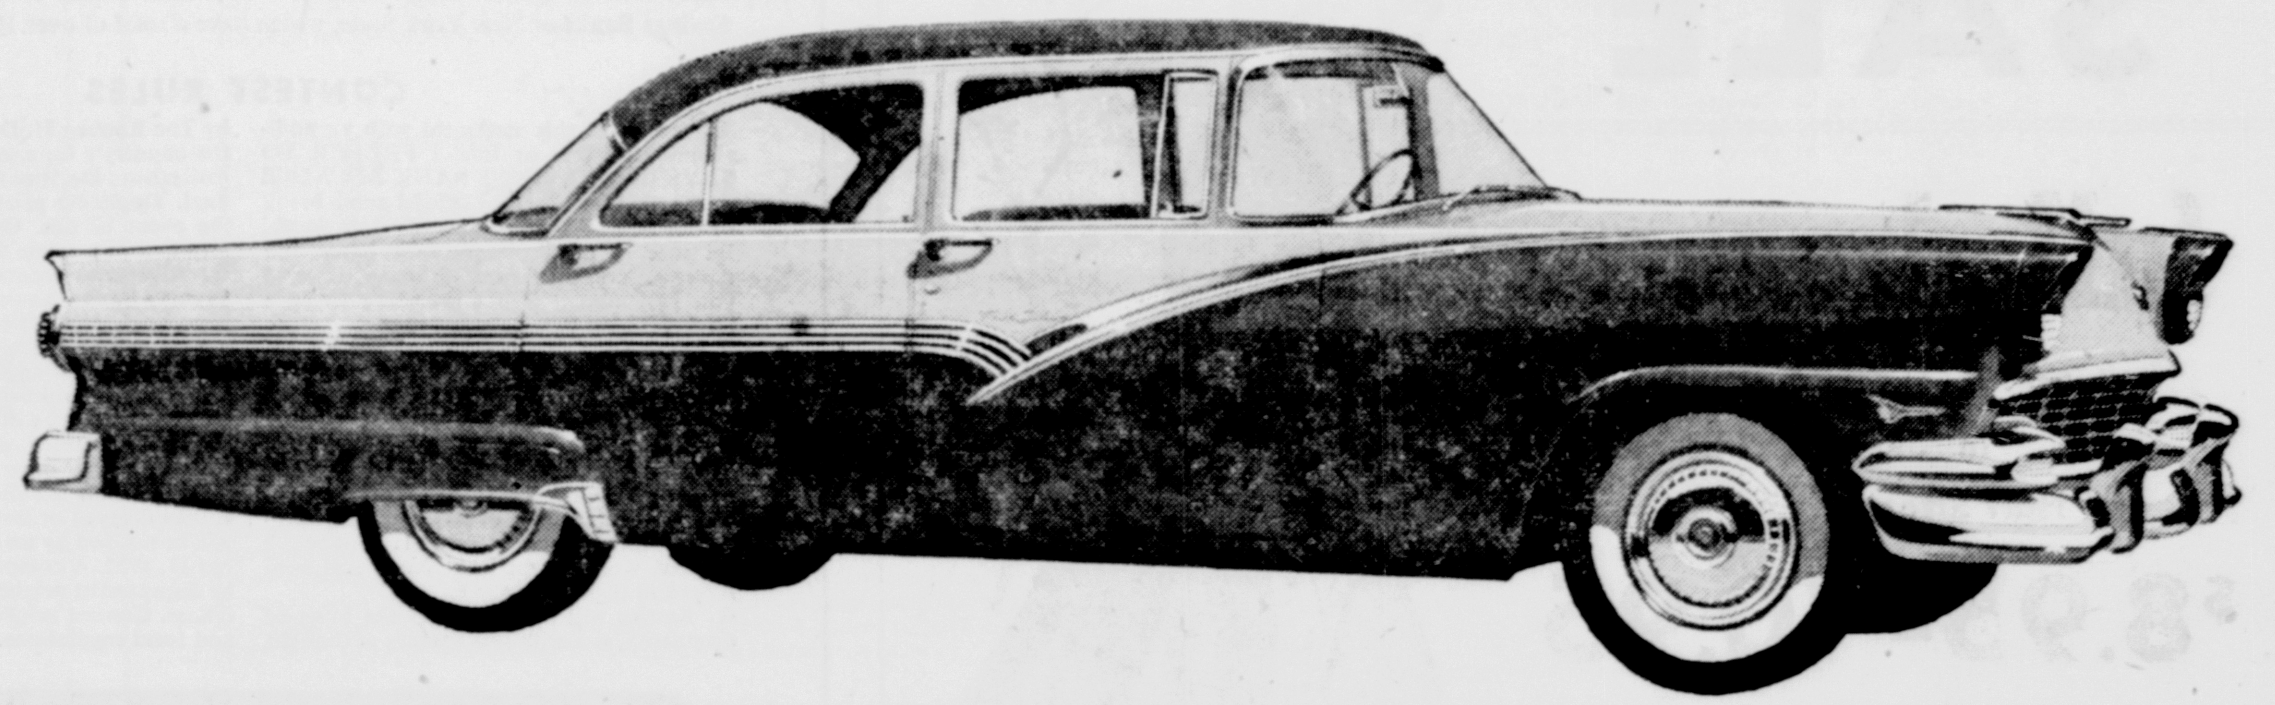

All 18 of the new '56 Ford models are styled like the Thunderbird—America's most desired dream car! Like the Thunderbird, Ford has hooded headlights, jet-like taillights, a classic lattice-type front grille, and low-to-the-road stance. To match this modern exterior, Ford has created an interior décor that's right up to the last minute. You'll find glamorous upholstery fabrics (combinations including nylons, woven plastics, and vinyls) which are the textile industry's newest and proudest creations. You must see them.

Only in Ford...Lifeguard Design

Ford for '56 makes the first major contribution to driver and passenger safety in accidents: Lifeguard Design. It's a new, exclusive family of Ford safety features. For example, Ford's new deep-center steering wheel acts as a cushion on impact—and Ford's new double-grip door latches give added protection against doors springing open. You can have optional seat belts and special optional padding for the control panel and sun visors. Put your family in Ford. You'll be thankful you did.

Tillson Local Agencies Combine to Aid Flood Victims

Tillson, Oct. 18—Sleepy-eyed, wet and mud-splashed volunteer firemen of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company poured in and out of the local firehall during the past two days and nights to drink hot coffee, munch on a sandwich or take time to sit down to a real hot meal. Joining them at the firehall were CD officials, CD volunteers, police, as well as over 30 evacuees from flooded homes along the River road and Springtown road.

These people had been taken out of their homes, some by boat, and the firehall became an evacuation center. Few of the local volunteers found time to sleep since Friday night.

MEMBERS OF THE LADIES' Auxiliary of the local volunteer fire company worked around the clock, keeping food ready for the workers or others, and took charge of things in general at the hall. Ralph Dewey, in charge of civilian defense activities in this area, expressed his thanks for the quick response given by members of all local organizations, and to the countless residents who opened their homes for the flood victims, or donated food and clothing which literally poured into the firehall.

FORTUNATELY, no serious accidents were reported here during the flood. However, some close calls were talked about. A car, with three occupants and driver who did not understand warnings of men posted just below the entrance to Sportsmen's Park, plunged into the flood waters until the car stalled. Guided by beams from spotlights, the men waded back to safety. Others were rescued late at night by boats, and it was very lucky that no one was injured or drowned. The waters were filled with debris and in the darkness, men in boats could not see the objects until they hit.

ALONG THE RIVER road and Springtown road, men from the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company rescued a number by boat. Calls for assistance were received at the firehall and men sent out to help where needed.

Once the waters receded, the volunteers found their work far from over. Calls came in to have flooded cellars pumped out. Monday morning they started work, and kept it up all day and night. They put into immediate use a new portable pump ordered only last week, and found it, as one fireman stated, to be a "honey." A public demonstration of this new portable pump had been planned for last Sunday afternoon.

EVEN THE TIRED firemen and other volunteers found time to smile at a sign placed at the foot of the hill leading from Tillson to Rosendale. At the height of the flood, it became necessary to put up a barrier of some sort to stop motorists from attempting to cross the bridge on Route 32 in Rosendale. Right smack in the middle of the road a big sign was placed, and the sign read: "Open All the Year Around."

Many Tillson volunteer firemen helped also at guarding the Rosendale bridges and duty south of Tillson on Route 32. For a while, Tillson was an isolated community, and when it became necessary to send an elderly person to the hospital, permission was granted to enter the New York State Thruway from the east side of Tillson.

THE SALVATION Army came around to the men at the bridges with coffee and eats. It was reported that the Red Cross had set up a temporary headquarters in Rosendale. However, during the crucial part of the disaster in this locality, it was the local people, the local organizations, that notably gave of their time, food, clothing and living quarters for the flood victims. Officials of the fire company wish to express thanks to all those who assisted in any way, and especially to the ladies' auxiliary for their fine spirit of cooperation.

FROM OUT OF the storm and flood came a little white dog with one brown ear. Dubbed "Driftwood" by his rescuers, he was housed at the firehall until Monday night when Miss Pearl DeForce took him to her home on Route 32 in Tillson. The owner may claim him there. He was well fed and taken care of by the many children who were at the firehall while their parents worked.

Tillson School Plans Open House Thursday

Open house will be observed Thursday, Oct. 20 at 8 p. m. in the Tillson school. Those present will be given a guided tour through the school, and parents of children in the school will have the opportunity to meet and visit with the teachers. Members of the Board of Education will make brief speeches following which light refreshments will be served. Members of the board are Kenneth Clark, W. W. Wakeley and Roy Van Keuren.

Town Notes

The Tillson P-TA will hold a card party at the Tillson school Saturday, Oct. 22 at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

The next session of the fire training class will be held at the firehall Monday, Oct. 24 at 7:30 p. m. All those taking the course or planning to do so at this session should bring lengths of sash cord with them to practice knot tying. It is planned to show two training films. The class is under the direction of Deputy Chief Harold A. Sanford of the Kingston Fire Department.

In an effort to stave off any further infection of rabies, the Ulster County Board of Supervisors has appropriated funds to be used in the vaccination of dogs. Dog owners in Tillson and Rosendale may take their pets to Myers Garage, Main street, Rosendale, on Monday, Oct. 24, for free vaccination.

Plattekill

Plattekill, Oct. 18—Members of the Plattekill Grange are planning a Halloween Masquerade, to be held Friday, Oct. 28, at 8 p. m. in the Grange hall. Games appropriate to the occasion, awards for costumes, are in order and refreshments will be served by an appointed committee. All planning to attend are urged to wear costumes and masks.

Leonore Jacobowitz and Barbara Green attended a surprise bridal shower honoring Pauline Kaup at the Crystal Diner in Wallkill recently. A gift was sent by Patricia Green who was unable to attend. The latter is a student nurse at the Methodist Hospital in Brooklyn.

John Gardiner of the Wallkill Central School faculty and Edwin Abrahamson were the hosts of the teen-agers dance held Saturday evening in the Plattekill Grange hall. Serving on the young adult committee were Mrs. Grace Mahurter, Miss Bessie Powell, George Schauss, George Daley and Robert Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Onufry Orlovski were recent visitors in Albany.

Cpl. Edmund F. Wager Jr., has reenlisted in the U. S. Reserves with headquarters at Newburgh. Cpl. Wager returned from a southern base recently, after a two weeks course in engineering. Mrs. Wager is visiting her mother in Newburgh at that time.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD R. VITARIUS (Fautz photo)

Albright-Vitarius Nuptials Are Held

Miss Shirley R. Albright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph Albright, Sr. of Sleightsburgh, became the bride of Edward R. Vitarius, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vitarius, Sr. of Port Ewen, in a double ring ceremony, October 16 at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Edward L. Farrelly performed the ceremony.

Theodore Riccobono was at the organ and Rocco Autorino was the soloist.

The church was decorated with large white chrysanthemums and tall white candles. The pews were marked with white bows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and she wore a gown of imported French Chantilly lace. The Queen Ann matching lace collar was encrusted with embroidered rhinestones and seed pearls. The gown, styled along princess lines, had a form fitting bodice and a very full skirt with front panels of embroidered rhinestones and seed pearls. The skirt opened to reveal an underskirt of silk illusion over satin. The five yard satin train was trimmed with imported Chantilly lace. The three tiered silk illusion veil was gathered to a crown of rhinestones and seed pearls.

The bride carried a white mother-of-pearl prayer book and a white orchid.

Ethel E. Vitarius, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. She wore an emerald green ballerina dress with a very full skirt. The front panels of the dress opened to reveal a nylon tulle insert. Her headpiece was made of velvet petals in a cloche form, covered with a rose veil. She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of shaded yellow chrysanthemums and ivy.

Bridesmaids included Florence McGowen, Charlotte Osterhoudt, Ronald Dyshuk and Audrey Vitarius. The girls were attired in gowns of rust and shrimp colors. They carried crescent shaped bouquets of chrysanthemums and ivy.

The twin sisters of the bride, Rosella and Rosalie, served as flower girls and wore white dresses with circular shirred necklines and puffed sleeves. Their headpieces were in the form of a tiara made of small roses. The girls carried old fashioned nosegays and chrysanthemums.

Brother of the bride, John Joseph Albright, Jr., was the best man and ushers included Stephen Albright, brother of the bride, Robert Coutant, friend of the bridegroom, Bela Vitarius and Julius Vitarius, brothers of the bridegroom.

Wesley Clark, Jr., nephew of the bridegroom, was the child ringbearer.

A reception was held at the Wiltwyck Golf Club for approximately 200 guests.

Miss Albright attended Kingston High School and is employed by IBM in Kingston.

The bridegroom graduated from Kingston High School and is employed by C. Hiltbrant Dry Dock.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a gray tweed knit suit with black accessories and she wore a corsage of pink chrysanthemums.

After a wedding journey to Niagara Falls and the New England states, the couple plan to reside in Ulster Park.

Over 1500 Educators Hear Lowell Thomas In Poughkeepsie Talk

More than 1,500 educators from Dutchess and Ulster counties attended the southeastern zone conference of the New York State Teachers' Association at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, Monday. Lowell Thomas, a favorite commentator for many years, was the guest speaker.

The Poughkeepsie meeting was one of five regional conventions launched simultaneously within the southeastern zone on Monday as an experimental endeavor to more adequately meet the needs of smaller conventions for members of the teaching profession.

John Holmes, secretary of Vassar College, opened the conference with a welcoming address and introduced the guest speaker, Lowell Thomas.

IN HIS TALK, Mr. Thomas pointed out that American prestige among its foreign neighbors is unfavorably affected by two contributing factors; namely, behavior of Americans abroad and American pictures shown in foreign countries. He felt that the American tourist is inclined to think of the people in another country as the "outsiders" and the tourist as the "owner" while the American motion pictures shown abroad are second and third rate.

Leading into his present time-consuming enterprise, the production of a third cinema, "The Seven Wonders of the World," Mr. Thomas traced the origin and development of cinema.

He stated that his life has been spent roaming the world and that he felt there was a job to be done in bringing the ancient wonders of the world up to date. To accomplish this purpose, Mr. Thomas has had plane crews, manning cinema cameras roaming the world in order to bring back breath-taking pictures.

Mr. Thomas also said, "When this film is shown, you will have an opportunity to visit all of the continents of the world."

APPEARING on the program with Mr. Thomas was Clayton E. Rose, director of public relations of the New York State Teachers' Association. Mr. Clayton traced the history of the organization and pointed out accomplishments such as a sound teachers retirement system protected by the laws of New York state, a basic salary and legislation beneficial to child, parent and teacher alike.

Present also were V. Burton Bremenstahl of Wurtsboro, second vice president of the southeastern zone of the NYSTA, Mrs. Clara O. E. Lief of Newburgh, conference coordinator and Jack E. Robinson of Marlborough, program co-chairman.

CONFERENCE hosts and guests were Senator Ernest I. Hatfield, R. Watson Pomeroy, Joseph Judice, supervisor of the town of Poughkeepsie; Samuel Rosen, president of the Poughkeepsie Board of Education; Fox D. Holden, superintendent of Poughkeepsie public schools; Edwin L. Hunger, assistant superintendent of Poughkeepsie; Harold Storm, superintendent of Arlington public schools; John Phillip Reynolds, superintendent of Beacon public schools; Mrs. Pearl Edelman, president of the Dutchess county Parent-Teacher Association Council; Clayton Seaber, member of the NYSTA Board; Ethel Torgesen, member of the NYSTA classroom teachers committee.

Greetings were read from Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Ulster county, State Assemblyman Kenneth Wilson, Robert Stevens, mayor of the city of Poughkeepsie and Sara Gibson Blandine, president of Vassar College.

MRS. DANIEL NORTON DICKENS (Photo Workshop)

Alice McCullough Weds Daniel Dickens

Miss Alice Marie McCullough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCullough of East Kingston, became the bride of Daniel Norton Dickens of Vails Gate, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Dickens, Sunday, Oct. 16 at St. Colman's Church in East Kingston. The Rev. Edmund Radford performed the ceremony.

Miss Margaret Volker was at the organ and Mrs. Peter Mancuso sang, "Mother Beloved" and the "Ave Maria."

The church was decorated with white pompons and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert J. McCullough.

The bride wore a gown of blush pink imported lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and bracelet length sleeves. The neckline and sleeves featured embroidered medallions with iridescent sequins and the flared skirt was waist length. She wore a matching bridal cap trimmed with pearls and iridescent sequins to which was attached her blush pink French illusion veil, chapel length.

Mrs. Joan Stegmuller, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and she wore a gown of An organ prelude by Lois Fincke, of Vassar College opened the conference followed by the presentation of the colors under the escort of the Boy and Girl Scouts. The Rev. Robert Bonthius, chaplain of Vassar College, gave the invocation.

Highlights of the general morning session were the musical programs presented by the Girls Glee Club of the Poughkeepsie High School, under the direction of Miss Marguerite Waters and the A Cappella Choir, of Kingston High School, under the direction of Leonard Stine.

The afternoon session was devoted to six educational tours within the vicinity of Poughkeepsie and 18 workshops and panel group meetings.

The average doctor is said to know about 25,000 words. The most monotonous ones are "stick out your tongue."

More men than women live to be a hundred, taking the kids out of the idea that the girls talk themselves to death.

Success comes to people who move their work, says a college professor. But not just so they can put their feet up on a desk.

Many of the French settlers in Illinois left the region after it was occupied by the British in 1763, and settled in Missouri.

Her husband beheld it with admiration.

Groom—Marvelous, darling, and how wonderfully you've stuffed it.

Bride—Stuffed it! Why, dearest, this one wasn't hollow.

There's this about the marriage vow.

I do not understand: A girl will promise to obey And then take full command.

Friend—Why do you always insist on talking about the weather to your barber?

Man—You wouldn't have me talk about anything as exciting as politics to a man who is handling a razor, would you?

Train Jumps Track

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—A New York Central freight train jumped the track near Garrison, N. Y., early today and blocked a half dozen commuter trains bound from Poughkeepsie to New York later in the morning. The freight derailment occurred shortly after midnight on the Central's Hudson Division, just north of Garrison and about 49 miles from New York. There are normally two tracks available at the place but one has been closed since weekend floods. Thus early morning commuter trains from Poughkeepsie were unable to get through.

Town of Shandaken Loses 3 Bridges in Floodwaters

By MRS. HOWARD UMHEY
Staff Correspondent

Mt. Tremper, Oct. 19—Superintendent of Highways Ernest Gardner reported today that three bridges in the town of Shandaken were washed out by floodwaters over the weekend. One bridge was located in Big Indian, one on Pantherkill mountain and the other on Moonhaw.

Gardner said that the town bulldozer is being used to turn the creek back under the bridge near the intersection of Routes 42 and 28. At this point, the Bushnellville Road (Route 42) has been closed to traffic since Saturday, due to the fact that the resurfacing creek waters came right over the road and it was impossible to drive vehicles through. This is a state highway, but the state, having no bulldozer in this area, called upon the town for help.

Superintendent Gardner also announced that many town roads have been washed out. However, the houses located on the roads in worst condition are owned, for the most part, by summer residents and are unoccupied at the present time. In order to reach Wineshook Mountain to inspect conditions there, Gardner said that his men would have to walk at least five miles.

AN ULSTER COUNTY bridge near the Shandaken Manor collapsed during the flood. The New York Central Railroad tracks were left suspended in the air near the John Mc-

THE LOCAL CHURCH and Grange Hall was opened to stranded motorists Saturday night. The hall was heated and food was provided to the 20 people who took refuge there. A summer cottage on the Reese Smith, Jr., property was completely demolished. The cottage was located near the bank of the Esopus Creek and it collapsed under the weight of waters rushing over the bank.

A section of the state-constructed dike in back of the George Reeve property broke through during the storm and inundated part of Route 28 and the properties along the road near Clyde Smith's Garage. A SECTION of the state-constructed dike in Mt. Pleasant broke through on the Sherman property, causing flooding in front of the Frank Carl home and spreading silt and dike material all over road and lawn.

A portion of the road between Mt. Pleasant and Phoenicia was closed to traffic when creek waters undermined the highway and broke off a huge section of the pavement.

The roadway leading to the Phoenicia railroad station was washed out.

Several ash logs from the White Mills Handle Company in Phoenicia were washed downstream in the Esopus.

SAND TO A DEPTH of three feet was washed onto a roadway in Riseley's fields. Sand bars also were left on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Klein, when the water receded from in front of their home, The Brookside House.

Many cellars were flooded locally. The cellar at Young's Tavern was so badly flooded that their electricity was cut off for two days.

WHEN THE CELLAR of Gustafson's General Store became flooded, Charles Gustafson had to remove some of his stored articles.

An addition on the rear of the Shandaken Manor collapsed during the storm.

The Alfred Ramsell and Alonzo Gale families had to leave their homes and seek shelter Saturday night.

The parking lot in front of Hoffman's Diner was washed out and at one time the restaurant was completely surrounded by water.

The parents have been charged with criminal neglect. The boys, two of seven Baughman children, died in Charity Hospital last Thursday.

serve as a political field marshal for Stevenson in New York. Lehman said he might have a new statement on the Democratic presidential situation "with-in the reasonably near future."

Maroon Faces Rugged Blues Rout Port for Second DUSO Win, 38-19

Mont Pleasant Friday

Having reached the midway mark in the schedule with a commendable record of three victories and one defeat, Kingston High School's football team now finds itself in for some rough sledding.

The Maroons' next game is Friday night at Schenectady, where they will meet Mont Pleasant High School. Game time is 8 o'clock.

From now on, the slate lists tough foes: unbeaten Mont Pleasant; high-scoring Lawrence; another unbeaten club, Poughkeepsie, with its wizard halfback Charley Johnson; and winless but still-dangerous Newburgh.

With three first-stringers out of action, Coach Bill Burke faces an even tougher chore. However, the replacements have looked good to date.

The replacements for fullback Neil Keyser, guard Alo Saluste and tackle Marv Shaub all turned in good jobs. Larry Johnson, Andy Lee and Bob Semler all cemented starting chores for themselves.

BURKE WILL, no doubt, use the same starting lineup against Mont Pleasant as he did against Middletown.

Poughkeepsie faces an unknown quantity in Taft. This will be the first game between the schools.

Middletown can expect to have its hands full with Peekskill. The Red Devils went unbeaten in '54 and are still a strong club. Middletown failed to impress anyone against Kingston.

Port Jervis is expected to have too much all-round strength for the Cadets, who lost to Kingston by 12-6. Port beat KHS by 13-12, if comparative records mean anything.

Highland plays against a team that took four games to score a touchdown. Arlington lost two and tied one before beating Roosevelt 18-6, aided by a pair of "gift" touchdowns. Highland edged the FDR club by 7-6.

The Highlanders, however, possess a potent offense and a sturdy defense. Arlington hasn't done much when it had the ball.

SAUGERTIES will unleash a blunted attack against Ontario's inexperienced eleven. Ontario is banking on its own offense to keep within range of the Sawyers. This could be a high-scoring game.

With Poughkeepsie leading the DUSO race, the Maroons retain only an outside chance of a tie for the circuit crown.

There's no action between DUSO schools this weekend. While KHS journeys to Mont Pleasant, Poughkeepsie plays Taft school at New York city. Middletown is host to Peekskill High and Port Jervis entertains

Turpin Quits After Kayo By Unknown

London, Oct. 19 (AP)—Randy Turpin's decision to quit the ring opened the door of opportunity today to another British light heavyweight — Trinidad's Yolande Pompey.

Turpin, the former world middleweight champion, announced his retirement last night after he was knocked out in the fourth round by Gordon Wallace, an unknown Canadian.

Promoter Jack Solomons, who had plans to match Turpin with world light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, made a quick switch and threw his backing to Pompey, a hard puncher.

"I AM CABLING Moore right away with terms for a title defense in London on Jan. 10," said Solomons. "Pompey deserves a break."

Pompey knocked out Yvon Durelle, the Canadian light heavyweight champion in two minutes of the seventh round of a scheduled 10 on the same card as the Turpin-Wallace affair. He looked powerful, indeed, opening up his opponent with a body attack, then finishing him off with two right upercuts.

For the 27-year-old Turpin, it was a sad end to a fine career. When he outpointed Sugar Ray Robinson in 1951, he became the first Briton to win the world middleweight in 60 years.

Ameche Runaway Leader in NFL

Philadelphia, Oct. 19 (AP)—Alan Ameche is making a runaway of the ground gaining competition in the National Football League.

The former Wisconsin star, number one draft choice of the Baltimore Colts, has gained 476 yards on 77 attempts for an average of 6.3. Howard Ferguson of Green Bay is a distant second with 331 yards gained on 67 carries for a 4.9 average.

Pittsburgh's Fran Rogel with 282 yards on 73 attempts and a 3.0 average ranks third among the ball carriers.

IN THE PASSING department, "Old" Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns still shows the way. The NFL's second 1955 issue of the weekly statistics shows Graham with 35 completions of 57 passes for 531 yards, three touchdowns and a 9.32 average. Philadelphia's Bobby Thomson moved into second place ahead of Washington's Eddie LeBaron.

Thomson completed 44 of 78 for 697 yards, five TDs and an average of 8.95. LeBaron is third with 30 for 66, 512 yards, four TDs and a 7.7 yard average.

The University of North Dakota has had 19 head football coaches during 59 seasons the sport has been played at the school.

Greenberg to Purchase Seals; Will Retain Cleveland Post

San Francisco, Oct. 19 (AP)—The deal by Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, to buy the San Francisco Seals baseball club appeared in the bag today.

"We have reached a verbal agreement on the sale," said Greenberg last night after conferring with Damon Miller, president of the Little Corp., controlling the Seals franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

Miller, who struggled with slumping attendance and growing debts all last season, broke into a big grin.

"I'VE GONE over all the books, but there are still people

Kiner Named General Manager At San Diego

Ralph Kiner

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 19 (AP)—Former National League slugger Ralph Kiner—his home run hitting days over—now must connect at the gate in his new job as general manager of the San Diego Pacific Coast League club.

Kiner, 32, yesterday signed a one-year contract as front-office boss of the Coast League Padres at a reported salary of $25,000.

HE PROMPTLY hired his old Pittsburgh teammate, Bob Elliott, 39, to be field manager of the club, for the second year.

Elliott piloted the Padres to second place in the standings in 1955.

Kiner, finished his playing days with the Cleveland Indians this year. He was released by the Indians to take the San Diego offer from the club's new owners, the Westgate-California Tuna Packing Co.

Brooklyn College Drops Football

Brooklyn College dropped football yesterday after 29 consecutive years of activity.

President Harry D. Gideonse announced that the remainder of the 1955 schedule would be cancelled and that BC would not participate in further football competition "for quite some time."

and things I want to know before coming to a definite decision," Greenberg said. If all turns out as expected, Greenberg said he would make a press conference announcement today.

The offer made to Greenberg, Miller said, would be a $100,000 deal. "Hank would have to assume a $30,000 bank note, pay off $30,000 still owed the Pacific Coast League, and purchase 100 per cent of the common stock, which is worth $20,000," Miller said.

Greenberg said he expected to be president of the Seals club. But would remain in Cleveland with the American League club.

Kallochmen Take Long Stride Toward Title

By CHUCK NORD

(Freeman Sports Staff)

Poughkeepsie High School took a commanding lead in the DUSO League football race yesterday afternoon at the Bridge City gridiron, routing co-favorite Port Jervis 38-19.

The ease with which the Blues won the game makes them prohibitive favorites to take the title. After the first half, it was no contest.

The DUSO standings:

	W	L
Poughkeepsie	2	0
Kingston	1	1
Port Jervis	1	1
Middletown	0	1
Newburgh	0	1

Port Jervis wasn't nearly at the peak it was against Kingston. The big difference was the play of the P-J line, which shoved Kingston all over the field. The Port forwards weren't charging.

THE TILT as the score would indicate, was primarily an offensive one. Poughkeepsie ran and passed against Port almost at will, netting a total of 374 yards. The Porters outgained the winners by three yards, but made a big part of the total on their three long scoring plays.

Four players led the scoring parade—halfback Charley Johnson, quarterback George Phillips, fullback Ernie Stotzner and end Monty Stickles.

Johnson didn't really start to move until the second half. Then he couldn't be stopped.

Port held the Blues scoreless in the first period and got a temporary lead on a 72-yard scoring maneuver by Jim Malzahn. But Poughkeepsie bounced back and tallied two TD's apiece in the second, third and fourth quarters. Port scored once in the third and again in the fourth.

MALZAHN'S gallop caught the PHS defense flatfooted. Quarterback Dick Penckek faked a handoff to fullback Vince Pagano and then pitched out to Malzahn, who outran the Blue secondary down the sideline. Pagano's placekick was wide.

Stotzner ended a 50-yard Poughkeepsie drive by plowing 22 yards off tackle for the initial PHS touchdown. Stickles faked a placekick and passed to George Boyer for the extra point, giving the Blues a lead they never relinquished.

Two plays before the half ended, Johnson pegged a long pass to Stickles, who made a great leaping catch and charged over the goal line. The play covered 37 yards. Stickles' kick was blocked.

Penckek and Jim Decker teamed up on a 79-yard touchdown pass play early in the third period to put the Porters within range again. But Pagano's kick was low and the home team still led. They wasted no time in running up a commanding margin.

THE POUGHKEEPSIES ran and passed 54 yards for their third score, with Johnson running off his left side from two yards out. Stickles' kick was wide.

Two plays later, Phillips intercepted a pass on the PHS 46. The Blues ate up the distance in nine plays, with Johnson and Stotzner getting off the big runs. Phillips crossed the goal line on a sneak from the one. The kick again was wide as the quarter ended.

Port drove to the Poughkeepsie 34, from whence the home team took over and marched to its fifth touchdown in seven plays. Two 15-yard penalties on Port aided Sam Kalloch's players. Johnson scored again by literally trotting one yard around end. Phillips passed to Johnson for the point.

Following a short kickoff, Port scored its third touchdown. The scoring play was a 36-yard heave from Decker to Clint Malzahn. Luke Van Horn dropped the extra point.

PUGHKEEPSIE went 72 yards for its final TD. Johnson got the drive rolling with a 24-yard burst around. Johnson and Phillips took turns throwing and receiving for a total of 28 more. Johnson bulled for another 16 to put the ball in scoring position. Phillips pegged a two-yard jump pass to Stickles for the touchdown. Big Mont's point attempt again missed.

The game was marred by frequent penalties, most of them of the 15-yard variety. Port Jervis lost four players by injuries during the struggle, among them Pagano and Jim Malzahn.

WORLD'S WEIGHTLIFT CHAMPION — This is Paul Anderson, 22-year-old student from Toccoa, Ga., who will take part in the Olympic Carnival to be held at Madison Square Garden.

Thursday night, Anderson captured the world's title with a lift of 1130 pounds at the world championships in Munich, Germany last Sunday.

Shooting For a Record

Carter Favored to Win 4th Lightweight Crown

Cincinnati, Oct. 19 (AP)—Wally (Bud) Smith, a young fellow who has yet to cash in financially on the fact he is lightweight boxing champion of the world, makes his first defense of the crown tonight against Jimmy Carter, a three-time holder of the title.

Smith, a Cincinnati, won the championship from Carter, a New Yorker, in a bout in Boston last June 29.

The two sharp-punching Negroes will go 15 rounds or less in the Cincinnati Garden. The bout at 9 p. m. (EST) will be televised nationally (ABC) but with the area within a 75-mile radius of Cincinnati blacked out.

CARTER generally was being rated a slight betting favorite to become the first four time champion in the division in history. He already is the first three-time.

The finances of the fight were as strange as Carter's up-and-down record.

Promoter Sam Becker had quite a hassle with the International Boxing Club before he got the fight and he says he will not receive any of the television money. He says it all goes to the fighters and the IBC.

Smith hasn't had a fight since he won the championship so he hasn't had a pay day as title holder and, even though he is the champ, his guarantee from Becker of $9,000 is exactly the same as that given Carter. They also are supposed to share equally in the television money.

THE CINCINNATI Boxing Commission has waived its mandatory eight-count knockdown rule for the fight and also said tonight's scrap would not be stopped because of cuts. Carter suffered face cuts in the last fight that required 20 stitches to close.

Three referees will have nothing to say about who wins the fight in the event it goes the route. Three judges are used in Cincinnati and the fight will be judged on a 10-point basis. The winner of a round automatically gets 10 points and the loser any number under that.

Carter first won the championship from Ike Williams on May 25, 1951. Since then he has lost it to Lauro Salas and Paddy DeMarco but regained it from them in re-matches.

American Fencers Are Eliminated
Rome, Oct. 18 (AP)—United States fencers lost to Britain and Italy today and were eliminated from the team sabre competition of the world fencing championships.

Britain edged the Americans, 9-7, in the first round and Italy trounced them 9-2 in the second round.

Liberty Nips Sawyers In League Game, 6 to 0

Intercepted Pass Gives Fluke Victory

Liberty's Indians shoved Saugerties High School into the West Shore League cellar last night, scoring a 6-0 victory at the Sullivan county field.

The loss evened Saugerties' record at two wins and two defeats. Both losses were against WSL foes.

It was a heartbreaking defeat for Bill Straub's Sawyers. The SHS defense kept Liberty away from its goal line most of the evening.

Saugerties had one touchdown called back because of a clipping penalty. And on four other occasions, the Sawyers were halted inside Liberty's 10-yard line.

THE INDIANS tallied in the second period when tackle Bob Denton intercepted a Murray Craft pass and returned it 50 yards for a touchdown. The placekick attempt for the extra point was smothered.

Jim Ercog of the Sawyers returned a Liberty punt 60 yards for an apparent touchdown in the second. But the officials ruled clipping against the visitors and the run was nullified.

Fumbles inside the home team's 10 twice cost the Sawyers a chance to score. Penalties snuffed out another pair of threats.

Fullback Jack Patterson, halfbacks Ercog and Tony Francello and Craft accounted for most of Saugerties' yardage on the ground. Craft completed three of eight passes.

Jackson Beats Dennis Brady

Buffalo, Oct. 19 (AP) — Buddy Jackson, an Indian from nearby Springfield, weathered the flurries of Hartford's Dennis Pat Brady last night to hammer out a 10-round decision in a welterweight scrap here.

It was an important victory for Jackson, a promising youngster who has 13 victories, as against two losses and three draws.

Brady took an early lead but could not keep up the pace as Jackson carried the fight to him. Jackson weighed 142, and Brady 144.

Buddy Dike, Texas Christian fullback who suffered a kidney injury last season, is coaching the freshman team for TCU.

The folks who run the Louis Wehle fishing contest for New York state anglers believe the advent of colder weather is forcing big fish to come out of hiding to forage for food.

That could be a partial explanation for Sid Lane's whopping Northern Pike catch in Indian Lake. The 26 pound, 8 ounce beauty earned the Kingston photographer first place in the September Wehle contest and leads the state for the whole year. It figures to stand up with the contest due to close on Oct. 31.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Another record was broken in the September contest. The prize winning 2 lb., 2 oz. Brown trout which Roland Campbell of Cayuga landed is the smallest Brown trout to win a prize in the 10 years of the Wehle competition. It was the only entry received during the month! . . . Incidental Intelligence: George Bayer of Cincinnati is golf's longest hitter—has a measured 420-yard drive to his credit, made at Las Vegas, Nev., in 1953. . . . Coach Walter S. Van Wagenen of the Woodstock Varsity is engulfed by the perennial small town sports dilemma. He has been thinking about reverting to the original WV format of all local talent. In recent years outside talent has constituted the bulk of the WV roster. In the early years when Woodstock Varsity was Woodstock in the strict sense of the word, the team played to SRO crowds every time out. Then imported stars were added. The calibre of the club was improved tremendously. But the attendance faded to a whisper.

Of Men and Mice:

Buzzie Bavasi, the Dodgers' astute business manager, isn't giving Jackie Robinson a chance to build any high hopes for 1956. "He'll have to take a cut. He's got to remember he had a poor season," says Bavasi. "He will get a contract deserving of a .256 hitter. Isn't that what he hit?" Robinson reportedly received $37,500 for 1955, a slight cut over his previous year's salary. If Brooklyn expects to cut Robby the full 25 per cent allowed under baseball law he would be playing for about $28,000 in 1956, if he plays. Bavasi's words were spoken like a true business manager, except that he overlooks one important item. The Dodgers won the National League pennant in 1955 and also the World Series for the first time in history. Under such circumstances the club might be inclined to largesse. Let's wait and see.

A quartet of Kingston golfers played fabulous Sleepy Hollow club in Westchester a few days ago and returned with glowing admiration of that plush layout which is Jimmy Powers' golf hangout. During the course of the afternoon, George Svirsky and Dr. Saul Goldfarb trounced Leo Smith and Dr. John Olivetti for the works, with Smith ballooning to a 51 on the first nine. Sleepy Hollow charges $1000 initiation fee and about $450 for a family membership. It has a membership of 450. Each member is required by the by-laws to spend at least $50 every month on food and drinks at the clubhouse. The Lawrence, L. I. powerhouse which visits Dietz Stadium on Saturday, Nov. 5, has won three straight games to date, the latest a 25-0 romp over Baldwin to tie Freeport for the Nassau County Conference. Nov. 5 is homecoming day for Kingston High and the date for the G. Warren Kias testimonial.

When Iowa defeated Indiana, 20-6, the contest marked an unusual reunion of the Karras family. Hoosier guard, Ted Karras, 218-pound senior, ran into his kid brother, Alex, a 248-pound Hawkeye sophomore guard. "Alex was just another opponent to me," Ted said afterward. "This is a football game, not the family dinner table."

Rapps and Schraders Score in YMCA Loop

Rapp's Express defeated the Yellow Jackets, 57-54, in overtime in the Y Autumn League last night after Don Davis' deuces had deadlocked the regulation contest at 50-50.

Frank Tiano and Bob Kozlowski combined for the seven Express markers in the extra period.

The Jackets trailed 36-27 going into the stretch run but rallied for a 23-point splurge.

Kozlowski canned 21 markers for the winners, with Phil McCloskey rimming 17 and Tiano hitting nine.

Johnny Burris sparked the Jackets with 22 points and Bucky Miller rimmed 10.

Jack Schrader's hot hand—33 points—enabled Schrader's to overpower the Ramblers, 65-47, in a game in which they led all the way.

SCHRADER found the range for 14 fields and five singletons for one of the highest point harvests of the fall season. Other Schraders in double figures were Bill Fitzgerald (13) and Tom Stenson (10).

Vince Hart hooped 15 points for the Ramblers and Charlie Marable hooped 14 in addition to playing a fine floor game.

Amateur Tennis Loses Doris Hart To Pro Ranks

Miami Beach, Fla., Oct. 19 (AP) — The ranks of United States amateur tennis were further thinned today with the announcement that Doris Hart, the nation's No. 1 woman player, had turned professional.

Miss Hart, an active amateur for 20 years and winner of all the world's major women's tennis titles, will become a teaching pro at the Flamingo Hotel here.

Just a week ago Tony Trabert, the men's amateur champion, turned professional at Los Angeles.

"While I still love tennis, the strain of competing is getting to be a little too much," Doris told newsmen at a luncheon yesterday. "Besides, there are always the younger players coming up who have the fire you once had."

The 30-year-old Doris said she was tired of traveling and wanted to quit while she was "still at the top."

Martinez Meets Eddie Prince

Boston, Oct. 19 (AP) — Vince Martinez, third ranking welterweight contender from Paterson, N. J., and durable Eddie Prince of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., will headline a Callahan A.C. boxing program Oct. 29 at the Boston Arena.

Martinez, whose career was interrupted somewhat by managerial difficulties, has won 166 straight in his campaign for a shot at the welterweight title.

His bout with Prince, known more as a club fighter, will not be televised or broadcast.

Greenskeepers Hold Session At Twaalfskill

Twenty five members of the Northeastern New York Golf Course Superintendents Association heard Dr. Jesse A. DeFrance, professor of agronomy at the University of Rhode Island, in a speech last night at Twaalfskill golf club.

Alex Gerlack, Twaalfskill pro, was host to the meeting which was also attended by President Robert Umpleby and George Schneider.

Dr. DeFrance spoke about the different kinds of grass diseases and measures to protect golf greens and fairways against the ravages of fungi and insects that attack them during summer heat waves.

HE ALSO discussed various kinds of grasses suitable for golf greens in different parts of the country.

The meeting was to have been a joint affair with the Westchester area superintendents but bad weather reduced the attendance.

Among those present were Northeastern president, George Ramsden of Shake Ridge, Albany; vice-president, Tim Gagen, Schuylerville; secretary, Louis Mattei, Gloversville.

Jack Gormley, pro at Wolfert's Rost and Bob Edison of Edison Golf Club, Schenectady, were also on hand.

Football Briefs

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP) — Cornell's football squad is working out for Saturday's game with Princeton minus the services of ace quarterback Billy De Graaf.

Art Boland of Lynn, Mass., called the plays at quarterback yesterday during hard scrimmage. DeGraaf suffered two spinal fractures in Saturday's game at Yale. The team physician, Dr. Alexis Rachum, said DeGraaf would be out for two or three weeks.

Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP) — Colgate has been forced to hold light football workouts for two straight days because of injuries in Saturday's game with Princeton.

Yesterday, the squad held a light drill against simulated Yale running plays in preparation for the game at New Haven Saturday. The chief casualties in the victory over Princeton were center Frank Solana and guard Lu Mascellino.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP) — Syracuse football coach Ben Schwartzwalder summed up his team's practice sessions for Saturday's game with Maryland, the nation's second-ranked team, by saying: "We're working on everything."

Hurley, Sawkill Folk Give Thanks For Flood Help

Appreciation for the cooperation which was displayed over the past weekend when hundreds of civilians turned in to assist duly authorized organizations to give assistance and aid to those stricken by flood waters, continues to come in. Public officials throughout the county are most appreciative for the manner in which aid was given.

Among those to express his appreciation is Supervisor Charles Relyea of Hurley, chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors. Mr. Relyea, Hurley Fire Department, Hurley Civil Defense all extend their thanks and appreciation to the Town Highway Department, the various ladies' auxiliaries and organizations and all others for their splendid cooperation shown during the recent flood disaster.

Leona and Louis Audet of Sawkill have also added their thanks to the Sawkill Fire Department for the fine work done in the last storm. As new residents of Sawkill they were greatly impressed with the work of the firemen who worked throughout the night and following days protecting property and pumping out flooded homes.

In many other localities citizens given assistance, public officials who were in charge of rescue work and other individuals and agencies have been highly praised for their heroic work.

Bodies of 3 . . .

and dirt which had ground into the skin.

The oldest boy, Robert Peterson, had been slashed across the head 14 times with what Lt. John McMahon of the city police homicide squad theorized to be an ax or a hunting knife.

The coroner's office said the Schuessler boys had been hit on their faces with what appeared to be the flat side of a knife. But Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's pathologist, who examined the bodies, said strangulation caused the death of all three.

The Schuessler boys appeared to have been strangled by bare hands, while young Peterson apparently was strangled with a rope, the pathologist reported. Sheriff's Lt. Walter Fleming said the search for the killer or killers is "the biggest manhunt in this area since the Bobby Franks thrill slaying in 1924."

IN THE 1924 CASE, Bobby Franks, 14, was kidnapped and slain by two brilliant and rich young men, Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold Jr. Leopold still is imprisoned for the crime, which he and Loeb committed because they "wanted the experience of killing." Loeb was killed in a prison battle with another convict.

The brutal murder of their sons brought heartbreak into the comfortable and neat homes of Anton Schuessler, 41, a tailor, and Malcolm Peterson, 40, a carpenter.

Anton and John were the Schuessler's only children. Robert was one of four children. All three were clean-cut-looking youngsters with close cropped hair, who dressed neatly in jeans and jackets with emblems proclaiming that they were fans of the Chicago White Sox and the Chicago Cubs.

THEIR GRADES at Farnsworth School, where Robert and John were in the eighth grade and young Anton was in the sixth, were described as "average or better."

Robert's mother, Dorothy Peterson, 37, collapsed and was put under a physician's care. Seven blocks away from the Petersons' home, the other mother, Eleanor Schuessler, also 37, sobbed uncontrollably.

"My life . . . my arms . . . my legs . . . now gone," Mrs. Schuessler cried. Once she started to rise from the couch as neighbors and a priest attempted to comfort her, screaming: "I want my boys!"

Schuessler, who lived in Germany during his childhood, although he was born in this country, said:

"WHEN YOU GET to the point that children can't go to the movies in the afternoon and get home safely, something is wrong with the country."

Schuessler and Peterson went to the morgue to identify their sons. Schuessler cried out when he saw the body of John, and collapsed across the top of Anton's body. Two friends half-carried him to the main floor of the morgue and then carried him to their car when his legs folded under him.

Peterson sobbed quietly after seeing Robert's body.

TRACING the boys' movements, police found that they had gone to two bowling alleys and Sunday night, apparently after attending the movie in the Loop.

The ditch where the bodies were found is about 10 miles northwest of the Loop.

Aiding the investigation are 20 hand-picked Chicago detectives, the sheriff's police, forest preserve rangers, the county state's attorney's police, and state troopers.

Orders Cut in Forces
New Castle, Ind., Oct. 19 (AP)—Gov. George N. Craig has ordered national guard forces patrolling Perfect Circle Corp. strike areas cut in half. The governor's order came yesterday shortly before his office received a personal pledge of no violence in a 700-word telegram from President Walter Reuther of the CIO-United Auto Workers. The guard force will be cut to about 300 men tomorrow but martial law will remain in effect in Henry county and in Hagers-town, east of New Castle, in east-central Indiana.

Girl Scouts Will Baby-Sit on Election Day in Ulster County

The Ulster County Girl Scouts will again, be present at the voting polls in the county on Election Day, November 8, to do baby-sitting. It was announced by Mrs. Dorothy Buehner, president of the Ulster County Girl Scouts. Mrs. William C. Bieber has been named chairman of the project.

The baby-sitting project was conducted last year for the first time, and many parents took advantage of the opportunity to have their children cared for, by the Girl Scouts, while they voted.

This year, the Girl Scouts will be available at all of the county voting spots to offer their baby-sitting services. They will work in pairs, with an adult leader present at all times, and will be stationed at the county polls during the following hours: In the morning, from 10 to 12, and in the afternoon from 2 to 6 p. m.

The baby-sitting project is part of the Girl Scouts' on-going program in citizenship and will be instrumental in obtaining the Child Care Scout Badge for the girls taking part in the project.

All troops, county-wide, will participate in the program, and the girls will be present at their respective neighborhood polls. Parents are urged to take advantage of the baby-sitting accommodations and to be sure and vote.

Ulster Savings Trustees to Pay Extra Dividend

An additional ¼ of 1 per cent per annum will be paid depositors of the Ulster County Savings Institution for the period of October 1, 1955 to December 31, 1955, in addition to the regular 2½ per cent annual dividend.

Announcement of this extra dividend was made following a regular monthly meeting of the Ulster County Savings Institution board of trustees held Tuesday.

THE RESOLUTION of the board stated that "since our current earnings are sufficient to pay an extra dividend to our depositors it is the intent of the board of trustees to pay ¼ of 1 per cent per annum in addition to the regular dividend of 2½ per cent per annum for the period October 1, 1955 to December 31, 1955.

Ferry Resumes Regular Service

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry, put out of service by the recent flood, resumed its regular schedule at 9 a. m. today.

Water has been receding steadily in the Rondout creek since the flood peak of last weekend, but a police report at 2:17 p. m., yesterday, as the tide was moving in, noted that the Miron cement plant in the East Strand area was flooded.

Officers Meyer Levy and Joseph Keller investigated and noted that the section was temporarily closed to traffic. No other reports of water being backed up by the tide, were received.

Immediate Action

paying ability and borrowing capacity.

In Ulster county yesterday, Maj. Edgar Timmerman, deputy county director of Civil Defense, estimated damage from the latest flood at $8,500,000.

IN WASHINGTON, the general services administrator announced a plan to let small businesses in hurricane and flood-ravaged states buy surplus federal equipment and materials at about 10 per cent of cost.

Edward F. Mansure said that under the plan the surplus would be made available to state governments, which in turn would channel it to business men. He said states were being advised to join with the Federal Civil Defense Administration in setting up eligibility rules and to designate a state official to whom applications might be sent.

HE SAID the sales must return to the federal government not less than 10 per cent of the acquisition cost of equipment and supplies but that states might make a reasonable administrative charge in addition.

Mansure made no estimate of how much federal surplus might be available. He said needs were known to include such items as light plants, pumps, hand tools, lumber, hardware, pipe, wire and other building materials.

The federal small business administration reported that representatives from its New York regional office were surveying flood damage in New York and New Jersey.

Administrator Wendell B. Barnes said the agency's legal limit of 25 million dollars in disaster loans outstanding at any one time soon would be exhausted. He said, however, that the agency would continue to process disaster loan applications.

ELIGIBLE applications filed after reaching of the limit will be approved at six per cent interest under the agency's normal business loan program, the administrator explained, and if the loan program subsequently should be lifted by Congress the loans would be converted to regular disaster loans at three per cent interest.

He noted in his statement that congressional leaders had said they would introduce legislation authorizing the conversion.

This arrangement will work no hardship on disaster victims, Barnes said, because under normal conditions first interest payments will not be due for 90 days. He said he expected any six per cent loans to be reconverted before that time.

A STATE OFFICIAL said last night that soil conservation work would have helped prevent the floods.

Clayton Seagars, director of Conservation Education for the Conservation Department, declared at Fort Edward that preceding generations were to blame for "scoffing" at soil conservation.

Speaking at a dinner meeting of the Washington County Soil Conservation District, Seagars said tree planting, conditioning of soil to hold water, strip cropping and terracing could help prevent floods.

Eisenhower plans calls for an exchange of military information with Russia and mutual aerial inspection.

The Stassen speech pushed aside the discussion of politics by governors who were displaying a marked lack of enthusiasm at least for the time being—for a suggested Dixie coalition aimed at welding a balance of power at the Democratic national convention.

The New York Times and the Baltimore Sun have reported that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate majority leader, was behind a move to organize a coalition which could bring about an "open" convention with a moderate platform acceptable to the conservative South.

The governors who discussed the coalition idea said no one had approached them with any proposal to join in such a movement.

Russian Newsmen Visit Wall Street

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—Six touring newsmen from Russia ventured down to Wall street yesterday to see at first hand what Soviet newspapers have long viewed as a place of very sinister influence indeed. They came away saying they had had a very nice time.

Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, met the group and explained how the U. S. economy operates to provide the average for $13,700 of capital investment for tools and equipment used by each of the nation's millions of workers.

One of the visitors wanted to know why the United States has not learned to control the business cycle. Funston replied that a free economy, where prices adjust on an open market, has advantages that outweigh any disadvantages from slumps.
